

N. T. SUMMER SESSION STARTS MONDAY, JUNE 18

140 Public School Pupils Enroll;
Registration to Equal Half
That of Winter Term

Preliminary registration for the summer school at New Trier High school has now been completed and immediately following commencement final enrollment will be rushed so as to permit the starting of actual class work at the very outset of the summer session on June 18.

More than 140 graduates of public schools of the township will begin their high school careers on June 18 and, with the added enrollment of New Trier students, it is anticipated that the registration will reach 775 people this year, according to Wesley L. Brown, director of the summer session. This enrollment represents a gain of about seventy-five pupils over last summer and is nearly half the membership of the regular school year just being completed.

Extends Eight Weeks

Summer school, extending as usual for eight weeks, from June 18 to August 10, seems to be becoming more and more popular with High school students. It is arranged so as to have the classes meet between the hours of 8 and 12:30 o'clock or during the cool part of the day and so that the entire session will be over to allow a four weeks' vacation from any school work, thus providing an excellent opportunity for educational advancement without proving to be a burden in any way.

Many of the students, a survey discloses, regard it as a pleasurable part of their vacation activity. Many who do not need summer school credit are found in attendance because they enjoy some mental activity during the vacation months, or because they wish to accumulate some advance credit as an insurance against possible sickness, failure or extended absence.

Take "Extra" Classes

Moreover, many students find that, because of their closely prescribed courses, they cannot take some of the special subjects that they desire to take during the winter term and utilize the summer session for this purpose. There are others who attend summer school because they need extra credits to enable them to go on with their classes.

With the summer school opportunities as now provided, there is very little necessity—formerly so common—for any student to take longer than four years to complete his high school work. This has proven a boon to those students who find the "going hard" and who would otherwise have to spend five years to complete their high school education.

The universal appeal of the summer session is to the good student as well as to the poor student and the registration is advancing at the rate of about one hundred a year. Students who are contemplating entering summer school are urged to register at once, so that they may obtain the classes that they desire and to aid in making it possible for the classes to begin at the very opening of the summer session.

Mrs. Charles L. Trumbull and her children will leave on June 20 for their summer home at Old Mission, Mich. Until their return in September Mr. and Mrs. Wedelstaedt and their two children, of Chicago, will occupy their home at 390 Linden avenue.

TO WINTER IN EUROPE

Mr. and Mrs. J. P. H. Perry have taken Mrs. Franklin Rudolph's house on Sheridan road and will occupy it during Mrs. Rudolph's absence in Europe. Mrs. Rudolph will sail in July with her son, Charles, and her daughter, Miss Pauline, directly after the marriage of her son, Franklin D. Rudolph, to Miss Margaret Fahey of Boston. Mrs. Rudolph expects to spend the winter in Paris.
