IN A GAS Refrigerator

Gas is performing so many jobs efficiently for you in your home, why not let it do your refrigerating for you, also? The operation of a gas refrigerator is as noiseless as the flow of gas through a pipe—which means that you feel no vibrations—no clicks or whirs; in fact, no noise at all. This freedom from noise is possible only because there are no moving parts in a gas refrigerator—all the action taking place with chemicals in hermetically sealed containers—chemicals which never need replacing. Thus you have perfect refrigeration with absolutely no bother for you or anyone in your household.

Visit the gas office today and see one of these modern gas refrigerators in operation. It will be a revelation to you!
