St. Francis Grounds Will Be Gay Setting for June Festival

St. Francis hospital grounds are taking on a holiday appearance for the June festival which the Foundation for St. Francis hospital will give all day today. Booths are being arranged on the sloping lawn to the east of the hospital building where representatives of many interested north shore groups will dispense articles and provide amusement for the company. The Nurses' home also is being prepared for the various activities, such as a card party and vaudeville, which will go almost continuously all day long, and the hospital dining room will be the place of a dinner from 5 to 8.

From 10 a. m. to midnight every minute will be full of festivities according to the elaborate plans the foundation has prepared. In the circle of booths one particularly outstanding will be the merchandise booth which the Wilmette women are conducting. Mrs. George Ludwig is chairman. Furniture, blankets, children's apparel and fountain pens and numerous kinds of pieces for homes will be sold. Some have been made by the members of the foundation, others have been donated by merchants and individuals and some of the goods will be there on consignment from Chicago stores.

An automobile show will be another feature. Mrs. Frank Jones, president of the group, besides supervising the entire program, has spent much of her time arranging for the displays of cars which number more than a dozen.

French dolls will make up one booth arranged by Mrs. N. Picard and her daughter, Mrs. Reginy Sackley. A hosiery booth will be operated by Miss Shirley Cawkwell of Wilmette, and Mrs. Jones' daughters, the Misses Elise, Alma, Frances and Priscilla. Knights of Columbus are aiding the women in their project by conducting a booth, called specifically the "men's booth," where hams and bacon will be among the articles sold. Flowers and cigarets and pony rides will be sold by the members of the Junior Auxiliary of the Evanston Catholic Woman's club, while the nurses of the hospital will have a candy and popcorn ball booth. A bingo game will be conducted by the St. Francis auxiliary.

For the convenience of parents taking part in the round of activities of the festival a nursery will be maintained for small children and babies. Here tots may be checked and left to play or sleep. Miss Marian Crush of Wilmette will be in charge, assisted by girls from the National Kindergarten and Elementary college.

Entertainment will be provided by continuous vaudeville in the Nurses' home, of which Mrs. Frank McLaughlin of Rogers Park is in charge. There will be a children's play in the afternoon, a puppet show conducted by Mrs. William Brown of Winnetka, and a playlet directed by Miss Shirley Cawkwell.

Another continuous feature will be a card party in the Nurses' home which the North Shore Catholic Women's league, of which Mrs. William Schilgen is president, is conducting.

St. George's high school band will give two concerts on the hospital grounds, one in the afternoon at 4 and the other at 8 in the evening.

Luncheon will be served early in the afternoon, and the dinner, for which preparations are being made for 500 people, will be served from 5 to 8. The Evanston Catholic Woman's club is in charge of the lunch counter, where waffles and coffee will be one of the menu features. Dinner will be served in the hospital dining room, and will be in charge of Mrs. Albert J. Smith, auxiliary president, and the foundation members. They are asking for reservations to be made ahead by calling University 9550 or the hospital, University 543.

All the groups contributing to the festival are represented in the Foundation for St. Francis hospital, which is the sponsoring body of the festival. The Foundation was formed early in the winter for the sole purpose of benefiting the hospital when it could. It has planned the festival to provide funds for the hospital's new emergency
