

NORTHWESTERN HOLDS 70TH COMMENCEMENT

Diplomas to Be Given to 1,250 Graduates at Ceremony Monday Morning

Northwestern university's 70th annual commencement will be held in the university gymnasium Monday morning, June 18, bringing to a close over a week's special activities honoring the graduates. Approximately 1,250 students will receive their degrees during the exercises and honorary degrees will be conferred on eight outstanding educators and professional and business men, among them several Evanstonians, whose names will not be announced until during the exercises.

At 10:30 the program will start with the processional of students in caps and gowns, led by the faculty in their gowns. Edward Price Bell, dean of the foreign staff of the Chicago Daily News, will deliver the commencement address.

To Give Baccalaureate

The baccalaureate sermon for the graduates will be delivered by the Rev. George Craig Stewart, rector of St. Luke's Episcopal church, in the gymnasium Sunday afternoon at 3, and in the evening at 9 a candlelight song service by the senior class will take place at the gymnasium, which the public is invited to attend.

Most colorful of the commencement activities will be alumni day Saturday. Alumni from the earliest classes of the university down to this year's class will assemble on the campus at 12:30 for a parade to the gymnasium. There a luncheon and business meeting will take place with the induction of the senior class into the alumni body. The alumni day baseball game will follow at 4 p. m. and a General Alumni dinner will be held at the Orrington hotel at 6 p. m.

Garden Party on the Campus

Associate alumnae will entertain parents and friends of the graduates attending commencement at a garden party on the south campus Saturday afternoon from 4 to 6, and the president's reception from 9 to 11 p. m. at the gymnasium will close the events of Alumni day.

Besides, on that day there will be separate meetings of the Liberal Arts, commerce, music, speech and medical school groups. Medics are planning a banquet at the Drake hotel for 7 p. m., and the school of speech will hold an alumni meeting at 5 at Annie May Swift hall followed by a supper and recital. Phi Beta Kappa will hold its annual meeting in the morning at 9.
