“Only a few days ago we were merely talking about a house. We looked around for a site, found one that looked just right, and now we’ve started to build. Houses go up so fast in summer that we’ll be able to move in before cold weather comes.”

Those who act at once can do as this Evanston family is doing. Even if you are just talking over the prospect of a North Shore home, there is yet time to secure a site and take advantage of the year’s best building season. When winter comes—you will be perfectly located, convenient to everything that has made the North Shore Chicago’s most favored residence section.

We can show you exclusive offerings in fine residence neighborhoods all over the North Shore. This territory we cover completely, as we have for the past 44 years and are ready to act promptly in your behalf. You will find our accurate data on values and trends, and profit possibilities, as well as ready financing assistance, helpful in making your plans materialize.

Suppose you come in and let us show you some of the splendid opportunities now offered. Do it at once, if you expect to build for fall occupancy.
