A dollar's worth of heat
to every hundred cents

WHEN you buy coal or fuel oil, you are of course more interested in how much actual heat you are going to get than you are in merely buying so many lumps of coal or drops of oil. It's heat that you're buying. It's our job to see that the maximum number of heat units are stored away in each of these lumps of coal or drops of oil.

Do we make it our job? Look at the seal at the right. That's our answer. It says certified and it means certified. This mark means that your delivery has passed a rigid inspection by fuel and lumber experts.

It stands back of everything we sell. It means profit for you.
