Two Gardeners Rescue Canoeist From Drowning

Jack McCarthy, 763 Mt. Pleasant avenue, Winnetka, narrowly escaped drowning Tuesday afternoon when the canoe in which he was riding overturned a short distance off Elder Lane beach. McCarthy called for help and was rescued by Arthur Foster, gardener, and Peter Clark, assistant gardener for Horace W. Armstrong, 365 Sheridan road. Foster and Clark, who were eating their lunch along the lake shore when they heard the cries for help, broke the lock on the door of the beach house, got out the life boat, and made the rescue.

When taken from the water McCarthy was not in need of a doctor's services, according to Carl Bishop, police officer. This was the second rescue that Arthur Foster has made within the last year. Last summer he saved a boy from drawing.

Mosquito Abatement District Seeks Cooperation of All Citizens

Letters urging every citizen to cooperate in battling the mosquito are being written by a special committee from the North Shore Mosquito Abatement district and will be in the mail next week. They will contain a list of steps which the general public may observe so as not to nullify the work of the district engineers.

Marvin E. Nevins of Glencoe is chairman of the committee drawing up the letter and Howard C. Phillips and Felix L. Streed of Kenilworth are assisting.

Heat and water, the allies of the mosquito, caused the abatement squad to work overtime this week to eradicate the breeding places. Four fire-red trucks are traveling the streets pouring oil, by an automatic device, from 300 gallon tanks in all the storm sewer catch basins.

A chief inspector for the district was engaged this week by Arthur Stringer, president, to oversee the work being done, to check on the employees and see that all breeding places are receiving attention. A. H. Meier, a graduate student at Northwestern university, was the man.
