

Lusk Is Accorded Ovation in Sofia Casino Appearance

Milan Lusk of Wilmette, who has been having an unusual success in his appearances in European capitals, gave a violin recital, June 19, in the Military Casino in Sofia, Bulgaria, to a capacity audience. His concert marked the last of a very active musical season in the Bulgarian capital.

This season such artists as Cortot, Kubelik, and Huberman have given recitals but, according to U. S. Charge d'affaires Trojan Harding, Lusk has the distinction of being the first American artist to have ever played in Sofia. The interest evidenced by the public in this concert was immense, especially since there were numbers on the program unfamiliar to the Bulgarian music lovers.

The spontaneous and long continued hearty applause which greeted the violinist at the very beginning increased as the program continued and became a veritable ovation after he finished the Hungarian Rhapsody by Hubay. He was kept busy adding numerous encores to an insistent and wildly enthusiastic audience.

Public Forum

Editor, WINNETKA TALK:

The fine co-operation WINNETKA TALK has given in the news of the Y. W. C. A. during the past year was especially mentioned at the last meeting of the Public Relations committee, a group of fifty publicity, advertising, and club leaders who are particularly interested in the methods of reaching Chicago and suburban people with our activities.

We do feel that the "Y" is a constant source of real human interest stories and constructive news. If there are any suggestions that you have for more efficient methods in our handling of publicity, we will be most happy to have them.

We always note with interest the clippings which are received from your paper and are mounted in our scrap book where publicity from Chicago papers is kept.

May we, through you, thank the members of your staff who have been so courteous in their response to our news of what our girls are doing.

Very sincerely,

Susa P. Moore,
Public Relations chairman.
Elizabeth Leitzbach,
Publicity director.
