Purple Grid Squad Faces Tough Year; Many New Players

Facing an unusually heavy schedule minus the services of fourteen lettermen, a number of whom were all-conference caliber, is the situation in which Coach Dick Hanley, Northwestern's football coach, finds himself as plans for the 1928 season get underway.

The season opens with Butler, October 6. Instead of the usual two practice games, Ohio will be met October 13 at Dyche stadium. Then comes in succession Kentucky, Illinois, Minnesota, Purdue, Indiana and Dartmouth. Besides this formidable outlay of opponents there is a second team schedule including Loyola varsity, Notre Dame reserves, Illinois reserves, Indiana reserves and Carroll college varsity.

The 1928 Wildcat edition will be without the services of such stellar grid performers as Tiny Lewis and Vic Gustafson, backs; Waldo Fisher and George Panosh, ends; Rudy Schuler, Arnold Karstens, and Walt Rosie, tackles; Bob Schneider, guard, and Skeet Wyman and Bill Hellerman, centers. Other lettermen from last year's squad who have either graduated or will not return are Al Schuler and D. W. Seymour, tackles; Bus Owen, guard, and Bill Ketchegar, end.

Coupled with this somewhat forboding outlook is the decided lack of first class material among the remaining candidates. This situation is especially noticeable in the tackle, guard and center positions while veteran ends, with the exception of Tom Verdell, are conspicuous by their absence. The backfield prospects might be said to be promising with nearly twenty of the forty-five candidates striving for positions in this department.

Veterans who will return are: Capt. Holmer and Achers, fullbacks; Calderwood, Haas, Bergherm, halfbacks; Levison, Fox and Rojan, quarterbacks; Hazen and Sinkler, tackles; Dart and Anderson, guards; Verdell, end, and Erickson, center. Reserves from last year's varsity are Carter and Clarr, halfbacks; Spadoa, Singleton and Kenty, guards, and Cool and Vandenberg, tackles.

Newcomers from the sophomore ranks are: halfbacks, Brudor, W. Lewis, Lemming, Heinzelman, Griffen, Reil; quarterbacks, Lee Hanley; fullback, Davis; ends, Woodworth, Massey, Oliphant, Egbert, Baker and Redman; tackles, Ford Hall, Bill Hall, and Scott; guards, Sinks, Sullivan, and Crooks; centers, Clark and Green.

Several of the above sophomore candidates together with a number of others who have yet to show their ability will be used to form a second team. More candidates to fill out the varsity ranks as well as the newly inaugurated second team are greatly needed for the coming fall, Coach Hanley pointed out. He has urged all available candidates in school to turn out for the squad and try for a position on one of the two teams.

ANOTHER TALKING MOVIE

Dolores Costello and Conrad Nagel, who made such a hit in the vitaphone production, "Glorious Betsy," now playing in Chicago, are to be co-starred in a new motion picture of the "talkie" type. The new picture is to be called "The Redeeming Sin" and will be directed by Howard Bretherton. The scenario is by Harvey Gates.

Character Education

The Boy Scout troops of the many communities in which they operate are organized for the purpose of character education. For many years since its inception in 1910, Scouting has demonstrated that education in character is just as possible as education in arithmetic. Character is little more than a group of characteristics. Characteristics do not "just happen," they are the result of life experiences.

In the Scout troop the boy learns the give and take that is necessary in a social relationship. He learns team work and unselfishness.

The Boy Scout program is based upon an understanding of boy nature. It gives the boy the things that he is interested in. The program and its leaders also have a forward look toward boy needs. Scouting is based upon understanding boy nature and fulfilling boy needs.—Walter McPeck, Scout north shore executive.

Emulate Pioneers

"During the year, working under the handicap of indoor meetings, we can, at the very best, but practice Scouting," Scout Executive Walter McPeck said at a recent north shore Scout leaders' discussion. "But the summer camp gives us a chance to really live Scouting in earnest. Camping is concentrated Scouting. If your boys and their parents like the taste of Scouting that they have been getting this year, they should do everything possible to go to camp Checaugau where the opportunity is presented for them to get as much real Scouting in two weeks as the average troops get during the entire time in the city.

"We must keep alive in the hearts of our youth that spirit of our pioneers that pushed back the frontier that made our nation great as it is. We must let them feel the quiver of the axe as it bites deep into the log. We take boys to camp that we may keep alive in them the romance which beckoned to those sturdy pioneers, that will bring back into their lives those things which have passed out of the present generation."

North shore troops, many of them with their Scoutmasters in charge, are leaving for a two weeks period at Camp Checaugau one of the Owasippe Camps, near Whitehall, Michigan. Any Scout is eligible to attend.

Three Tributes

"If every boy in the city would join the Boy Scouts, the gangs would disappear, the juvenile court would be a stranger to the youth, and we would rear a generation of men that would not require a police protection. I have never had a Boy Scout in my court, and there are 1,200 of them in Kansas City."—Judge Proterfield, Kansas City Juvenile court.
