

Two Women Honored by N. U. in Names of 2 New Dormitories

Northwestern university's two new open dormitories on the women's campus, now nearing completion, have been named in memory of Mrs. Emily Hatfield Hobart, who was shot and killed by Chinese, April 29, and Mrs. Emma Winner Rogers, wife of Dr. Henry Wade Rogers, who was president of the university from 1891 to 1902.

Hobart house is the dormitory on Emerson street between two of the sorority houses completed last fall and Rogers house is at the Orrington and University corner of the east quadrangle. The two houses will cost approximately $300,000, including the furnishings, and will be ready for occupancy when the fall term opens. Each will accommodate 37 women who are not sorority members.

Mrs. Hobart, sister of James Taft

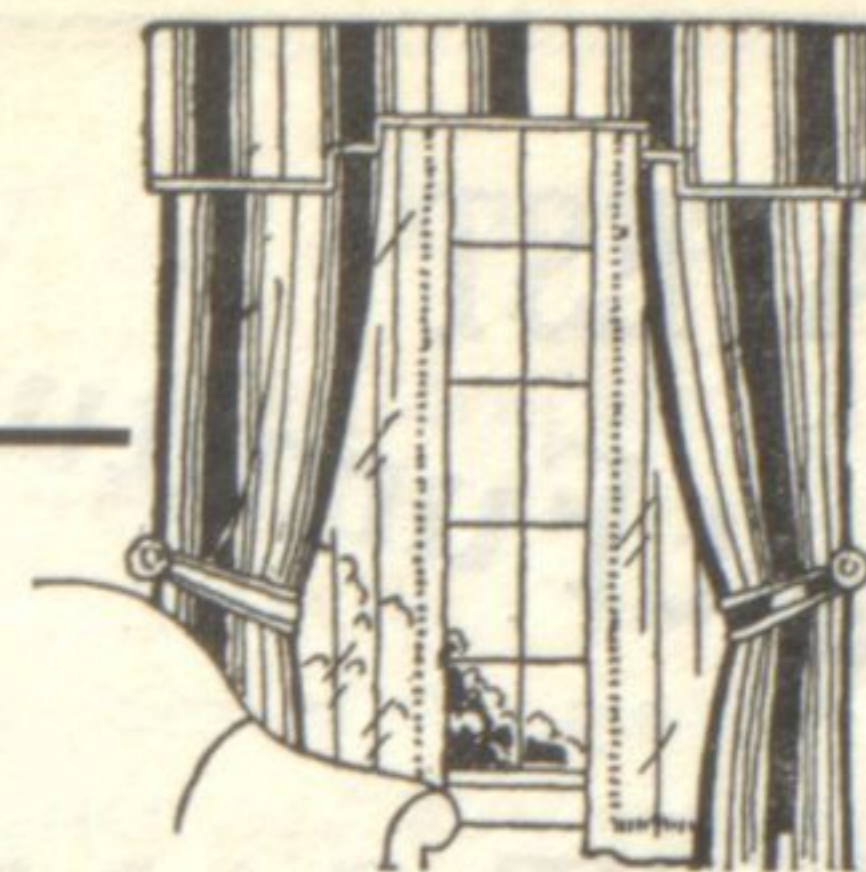

Hatfield, was a graduate of Northwestern in the class of 1882. She was a missionary in China with her husband, William T. Hobart, for 46 years and was in the war zone when killed.

The other woman whose name is honored was one of the founders of the Northwestern university settlement and of the University guild.

Miss Bernice Cole of Kenilworth has had as her house guest for a few days, Miss Sarah Beck of Ottawa, Ill., who returned from camp with her. Miss Beck was also the guest of Miss Dorothy Klunder of 909 Chestnut avenue, who was in camp at Sawyer, Mich., with the girls.
