"This provision then included only veterans of the Civil war. At that time, a card party for all the disabled soldiers able to play, was given by the Red Cross members. Twenty women went up from Kenilworth. It was stated that this summer there are fewer disabled veterans than ever before. The committee is always glad to receive donations of the latest magazines and good reading matter, it announces.

Miss Paisley Ball, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Sidney Y. Ball of Indian Hill, has returned from Minneapolis where she was in the bridal party of one of her classmates. Paisley also has a house guest.

Guild to Resume Art Exhibitions on Oct. 1

Beginning Oct. 1 with a luncheon at which there will be a speaker related to the opening exhibition, whatever form that will take, the series of exhibitions of art, sponsored by the University guild, will be resumed with the new season.

This announcement is made by the chairman of the art committee, Mrs. Charles H. Dennis. The majority of the displays have been arranged for, she reports, and it is expected that by another week the complete series will be ready for announcement.

The coming season's showing will open the third year of exhibitions sponsored by the guild. They are hung in the ballroom of the Orrington hotel and are shown for periods of several weeks each. They include displays of the work of artists of Chicago and vicinity and other places.
