

Back in Wilmette After 12 Months' Travel Around World

Returned this week from a trip around the world, on which they departed practically a year ago, Thomas H. Eddy, Jr., of Evanston and William Robert Tobey of Wilmette have their own "glorious adventure" to account and recall.

They were met in New York City last Friday, when they arrived on the S. S. Olympia, by Mr. and Mrs. Eddy who went east to meet and greet them after their twelve months of travel. Both are now at their homes, intending to spend the rest of the summer in quiet occupation, resting from the journeyings which, replete with wonderful adventuring as they were, were at the same time strenuous.

The two sailed last summer from San Francisco. They spent a fortnight in Hawaii, visiting with friends, before going on to Japan where they had the pleasure, denied the usual tourist, of visiting in the home of Japanese friends and being entertained according to the custom of the country as many tourists do not experience it. They traveled through Korea to the Siberian border, then down to Peking where, on account of war, they were not permitted to deviate into the city's surrounding confines. Their trip through China—covering visits to Hong Kong, Shanghai, Canton and other cities—was hurried on account of these same war restrictions, but they succeeded in evading any actual danger in the country of turmoil and battle.

From the Philippines they cruised through the Dutch Indies and the other smaller islands of that part of the world, and motored through Java from end to end to take the boat to French Indo China and visit the "forgotten" city of Angkor and inspect its highly interesting recent excavations. They visited the Malay Peninsula and spent Christmas in India before returning to Angkor for another visit, and enjoyed a hunting trip and travels in northern India, particularly about Calcutta. They crossed the Persian Gulf to Basra, the Arabian seaport, visited Bagdad and motored through the mountains to Teheran, a part of the trip made in midwinter over high passes where blizzards and storms raged and cold was intense.

Going back to Bagdad, they motored from there across the desert to Damascus and through Palestine, visiting the interesting American colony at Jerusalem, before going to Italy to join Mr. Tobey's mother, Mrs. Lansing B. Warner, and family and spending several weeks with them touring southern Europe. Leaving them, the two young men toured the Italian lake district and the lake district and Alpine regions of Switzerland, then visited Austria, Germany and France by airplane before going into England for golf on various beautiful and historic courses there and in Scotland. They lingered here for several weeks, pursuing the sport for which they have particular enthusiasm, and were fascinated by London and Edinburgh before sailing from the British Isles for home.

WINS GOLF MATCH

The woman's golf tournament at Indian Hill last Wednesday—selected nine—was won by Mrs. Hobart Young with Mrs. Henry Tenney, second. The tournament next week will be a blind bogey.

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Laser, 418 Provident avenue, are at their cottage at Pelican Lake, Wis., for ten days. They have with them their son, Theodore, and their niece, Virginia Scott.

GRANADA TO HAVE FURS

Furs to the value of $200,000 will be displayed on living models in "Say it with Sables" to come in conjunction with a Pageant of Beauty and "Million Dollar" fur show to the Granada theater, starting Saturday. There will be furs on the stage and on the screen. Those upon the stage are provided by members of the Furriers Association of Chicago who this year brought their annual show to Marks Brothers for production. It will be in four scenes and eight tableaux, brings one hundred people on the stage and will be enlivened by eight famous acts, including Roseray and Capella, John from the Folies Bergere and John Charles Gilbert from "Blossomtime," both under contract with the Schu-berts. The $200,000 worth of furs in the picture will be worn by Margaret Livingston, the most expensive of these being an ermine wrap, gorgeously trimmed and composed of hundreds of perfect skins. Another is a gorgeous sable, while a third is also a sable trimmed with several lighter furs. The picture is said to be one that sizzles and sparkles with pep.

Miss Dorothy Wheeler of Evanston, is visiting Miss Margaret Korrady of Kenilworth.
