

Glencoe State Bank Announces Ambitious Building Program

The above cuts show how the new Glencoe State Bank, on which construction work is to start soon, will look when completed. At the left is the Park avenue front of the proposed new building and at the right is the Tudor Court frontage.

The Park avenue front is designed in modern classical architecture, constructed of Indiana limestone topped off with a heavy slate mansard roof, and with bronze finished entrance doors and windows.

The Tudor Court frontage is designed in modern French mansion style of Indiana limestone with slate mansard roof and wrought iron balconies. It will be divided into three shops for possible use as a beauty parlor, ladies' specialty shop and an antique shop. The second and third floors will be divided into four apartments, each of four rooms and bath and having unsurpassed outlook over the park and the site of the Women's Library club and with cross ventilation from a large court thirty feet in width in the rear of the two buildings.

Construction of the buildings will be modern steel, concrete, brick and stone, and every modern convenience known to the building industry will be installed in the building.

The front, rear, west walls and roof of the existing bank building will be removed. The new structure will occupy in addition to the site of the present building, the lot adjoining it on the west, making the area of the new building fifty feet frontage on Park avenue, extending through 125 feet to Tudor court. It will be three stories high.

The Park avenue frontage on the first floor and basement will be occupied by the banking room and safety deposit vaults. The second and third floors will be divided into eight suites of professional offices. Entrances to the offices will be on the Park avenue front at the east side of the building. In addition to the wide and convenient stairway the offices will be served by an electric elevator.

Leon E. Stanhope, of 252 Walden drive, Glencoe, is the architect.

Janet Reed, Frederic R. Vandercook Are Married

Miss Janet Reed, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. O. A. Reed of Wilmette, became the bride of Frederic R. Vandercook at 4:30 o'clock Saturday afternoon at the home of her parents. Mr. Vandercook is the son of Mr. and Mrs. R. O. Vandercook of Evanston.

Miss Dorothy Wright of Rogers Park was the maid of honor and Harold Noos of Evanston was the best man. The Rev. Thomas A. Goodwin of Winnetka performed the ceremony in a bower of green palms, fern, and all the colorful garden flowers.

The bride's dress was of champaign chiffon, she wore a horse-hair hat to match, and carried a Colonial bouquet. Miss Wright wore peach colored chiffon, a hat to match, and carried an arm bouquet of butterfly roses. At the reception after the wedding, an unusual bridal cake combined the festivities of Mr. Vandercook's birthday and the wedding day by adding tiers of white candles to the bridal decorations of the cake.

The couple have gone on a motor trip west and will be gone a month before returning to Evanston. They plan to visit Yellowstone park, San Francisco, and many places on the

George E. Frazer Purchases Large Winnetka Estate

McGuire and Orr report the sale of the Thompson Ross home at 435 Sheridan road, Winnetka, to George E. Frazer. This is a Colonial home of twelve rooms, four baths, large garage with gymnasium above. The property extends from Sheridan road through to Lake Michigan, a depth of about 500 feet, with riparian rights. The frontage is 75 feet. Miss J. L. Floyd was co-broker in the sale. Pam and Hurd were attorneys for the seller and Carl Latham for the purchaser. The property had been offered for $150,000.

William Otter, formerly of Wilmette, has just purchased an English type residence located on Eastwood road in McGuire and Orr's Skokie Heights subdivision. This residence was just completed last spring by Thomas I. Simpson, builder, and is very unique in floor plan and modern conveniences. The actual consideration is not disclosed but Mr. Simpson was offering the property at $49,000. McGuire and Orr represented both parties in the transaction.

Mrs. R. N. Peutz of 452 Sunset road and Richard, Jr., left last Tuesday for Boston and Cape Cod to visit with Mrs. Peutz sister.

They will be at home at 2314 Sherman avenue, Evanston, after the first week in September.
