Over 30,000 application blanks for the University of Chicago football season were put in the mail this week by the Football Tickets committee, the first stirring of football activity on the Midway. In five weeks, Director Alonzo Stagg will open his thirty-seventh campaign, with the first of two "double header" games on Stagg Field. The inter-sectional game with Pennsylvania, and the appearance of the championship Illini on the Midway will be the leading games or the home schedule, which include eight games on Stagg Field.

Clabaugh Comments on Conditions at St. Charles School

More than 100 notorious criminals have been committed to St. Charles School for boys instead of being sent to Pontiac, Joliet or Chester, where they belong, according to Hinton G. Clabaugh of Winnetka, chairman of the Illinois pardon and parole board.

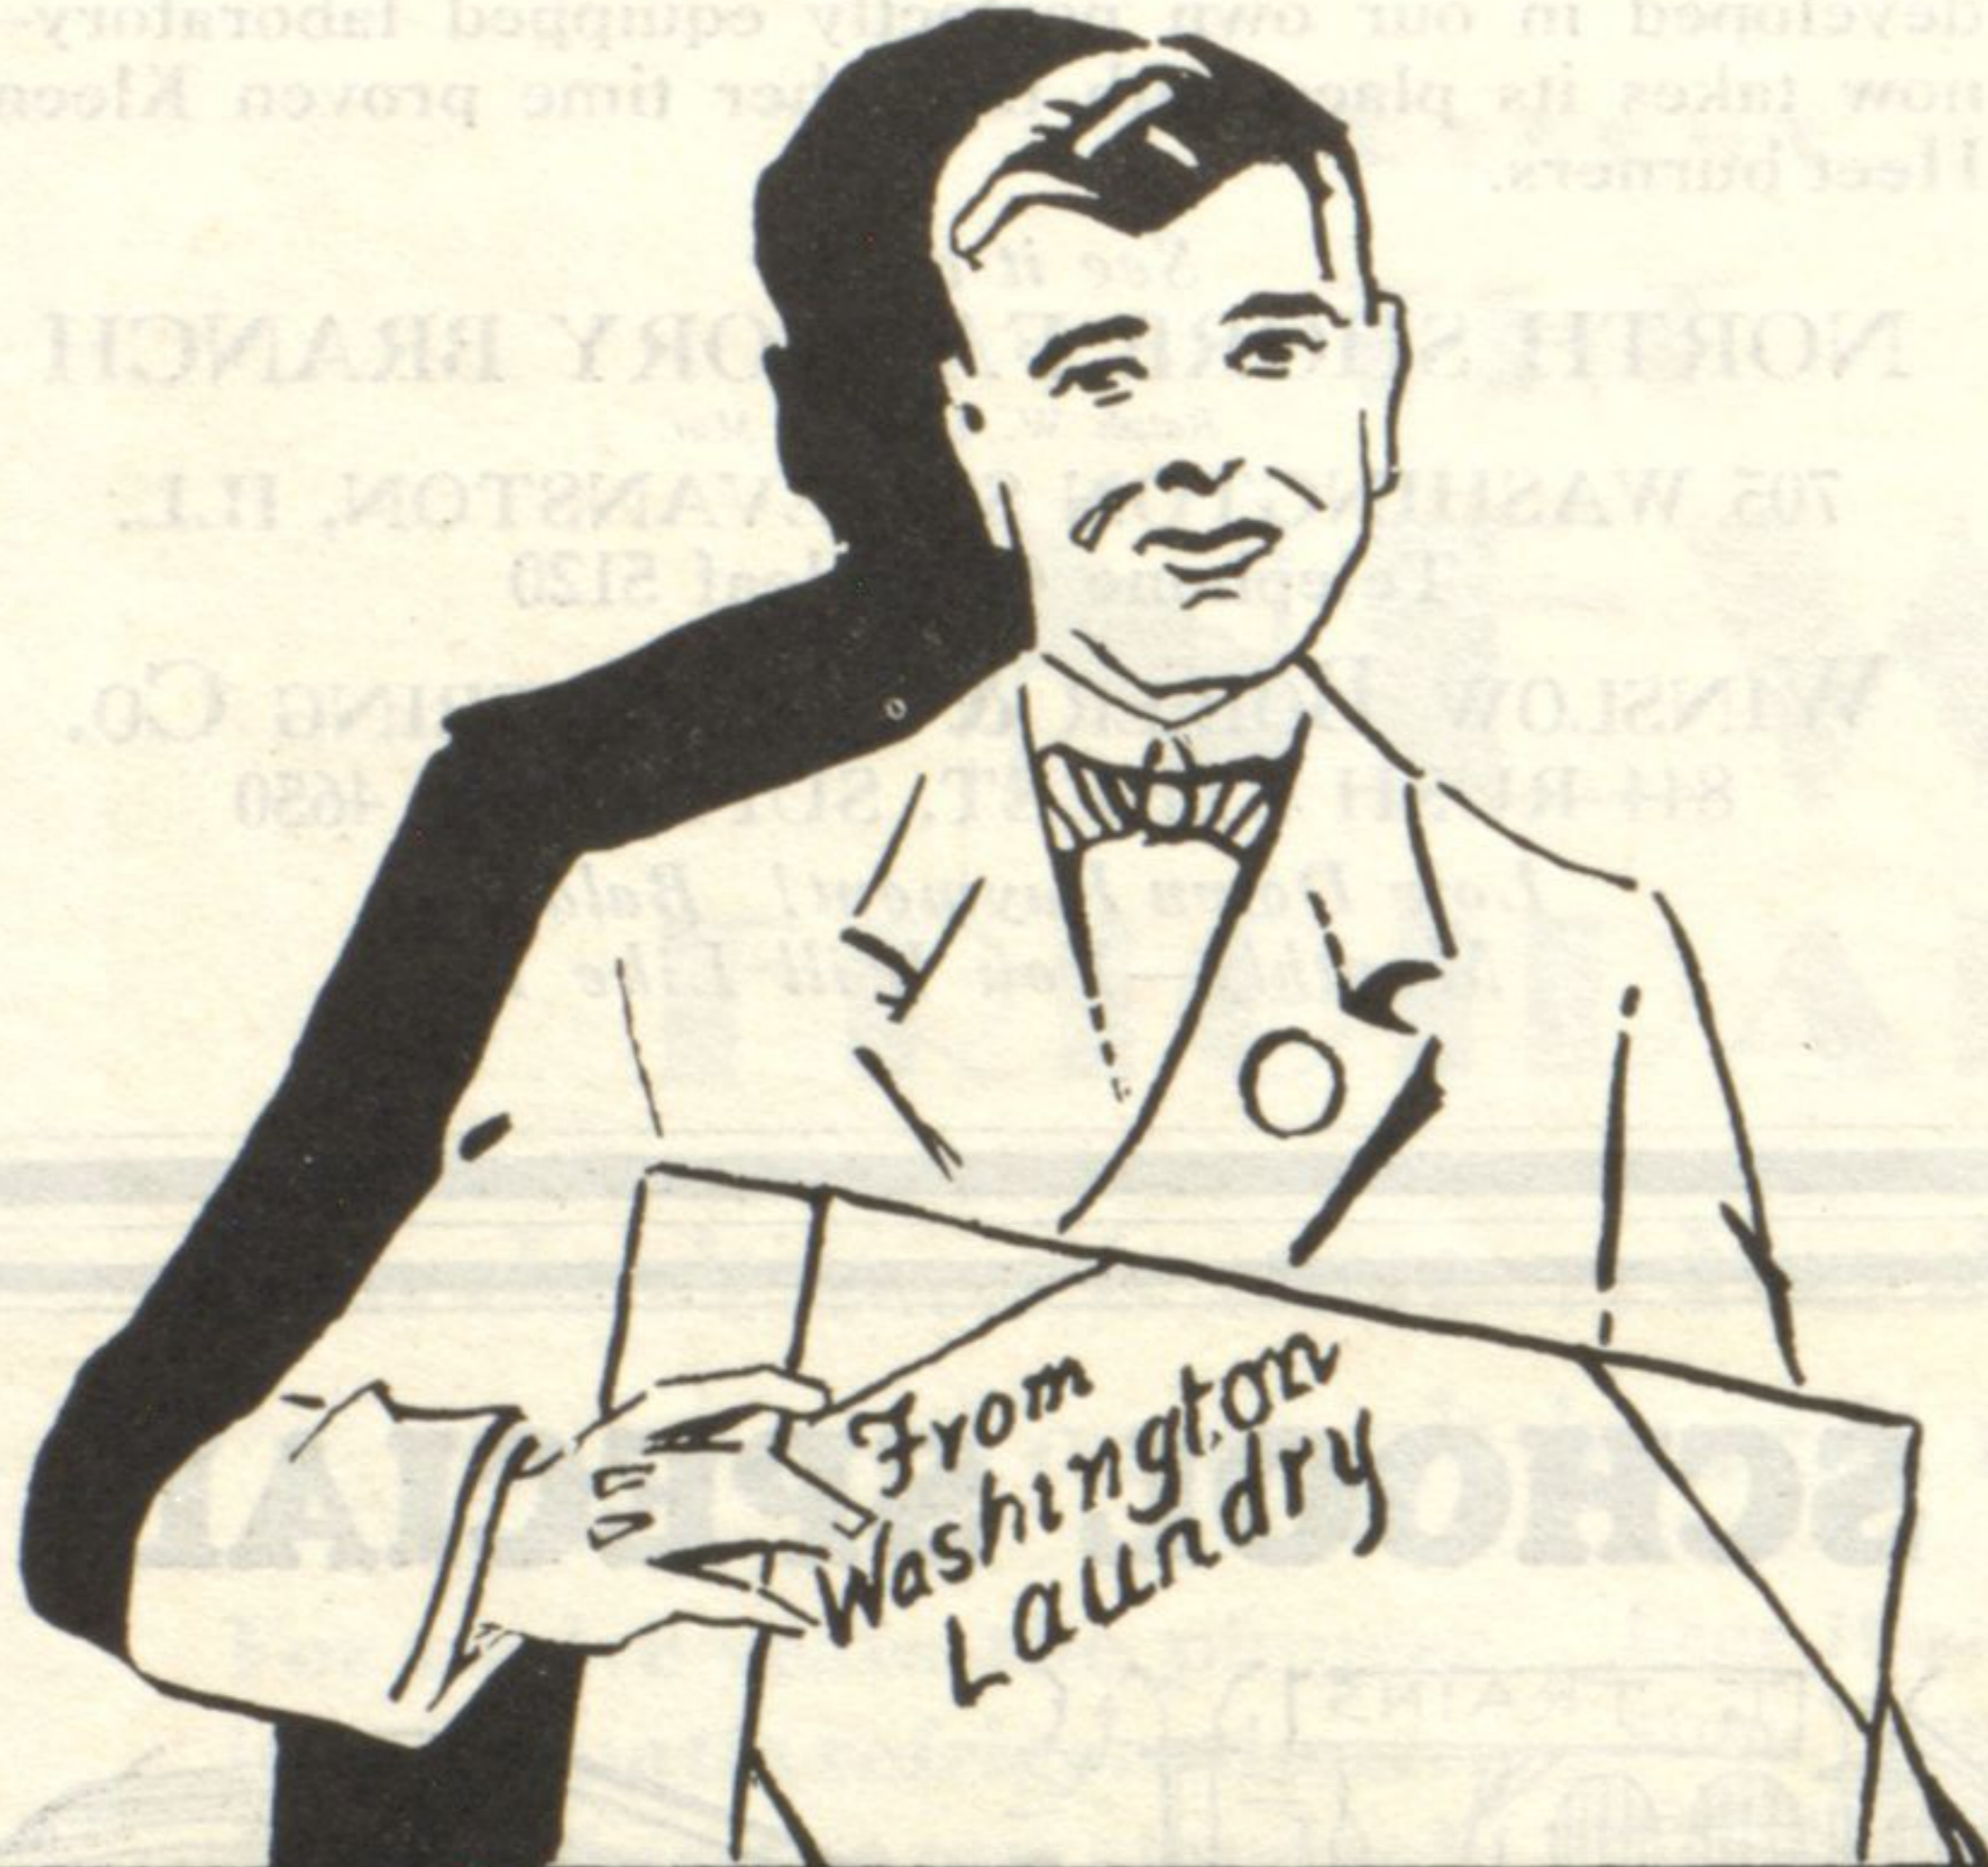

"Almost any criminal above the age of ten years may be sent to the penitentiary at the discretion of the court. Boys between the ages of sixteen and twenty-six may be sent to Pontiac. There is not now and never has been any justification for sending tough criminals to St. Charles to mingle with and contaminate the majority of poor young boys who are not criminals at heart and whom it is possible to reform," declared Mr. Clabaugh.

"St. Charles is a school for boys. It was never intended to use it as a penitentiary or reformatory. There are no walls, no cells, no way on earth of preventing escapes or, indeed, of punishing vicious inmates."

For the last seven years, every year, between 44.8 and 48.6 per cent of the boys paroled from St. Charles have violated their paroles, school statistics show. In 1921 there were 176 escapes, in 1922, 230, in 1925, 11, and in 1927, 152 escapes.

There is nothing to prevent the entire school from walking out in a body. Yet the courts of Illinois, it is pointed out, are sending to St. Charles as juvenile delinquents boys who have committed the crimes of manslaughter, assault to murder, burglary, or robbery, and other felonious offenses.

Mr. and Mrs. L. B. Anestad, 1159 Chatfield road, and Lawrence, are leaving next Wednesday with two Chicago friends for a camping trip in northern Wisconsin and Michigan. They will be gone two weeks and will also visit with friends at Iron Mountain, Mich.
