Mr. and Mrs. Fred W. Fairman, their daughter, Joy, and son, Fred, Jr., of 600 Ash street returned recently after spending a month at Bear Tooth ranch, Columbus, Mont. Mr. and Mrs. Fairman and Joy are leaving again tomorrow for New York and on August 29, Joy will sail for France on the Berengaria. She will go to Lausanne, Switzerland, where she will attend school this coming winter.

Mrs. Earle A. Channer has been visiting at her mother's summer home in northern Michigan for the past month. She returned to her home at 402 Willow road last Saturday.

Colorful Home Program Awaits Illini Gridders

University of Illinois football fans will be provided with a colorful home program. Five contests are scheduled for Champaign including three with Big Ten rivals and two college elevens of high calibre.

Northwestern holds a prominent place as the homecoming guest of October 27, and Indiana will furnish the opposition on October 20, Dad's Day. The third Conference game at home is the finale with Ohio State on November 24.

Northwestern is going to Illinois for the first time since 1922, when the Zupmen defeated the Wildcats 6 to 3 on old Illinois field. Since then Illinois and Northwestern have met twice—in 1923 when Grange ran wild against the Purple at Chicago and last season when the Illini secured a 7 to 6 decision at Evanston. This was the only time the championship Illini were behind in the scoring during a conference game.

This year's meeting with Indiana marks the first game between the two teams since 1914, and advance information from the Hoosier camp that they have the best prospects in years give promise of a real scrap. This will be the first Big Ten game for Illinois. Pat Page, the Hoosier coach, played against Illini grid and baseball teams seventeen years ago as a student at Chicago.

The rivalry of Illinois and Ohio football teams has become a tradition, and that this year's game will be a feature requires no explanation. Ohio's appearance at Champaign will be the last Illinois meeting with a Wilce-coached Ohio eleven because the Buckeye mentor will retire at the end of the season.

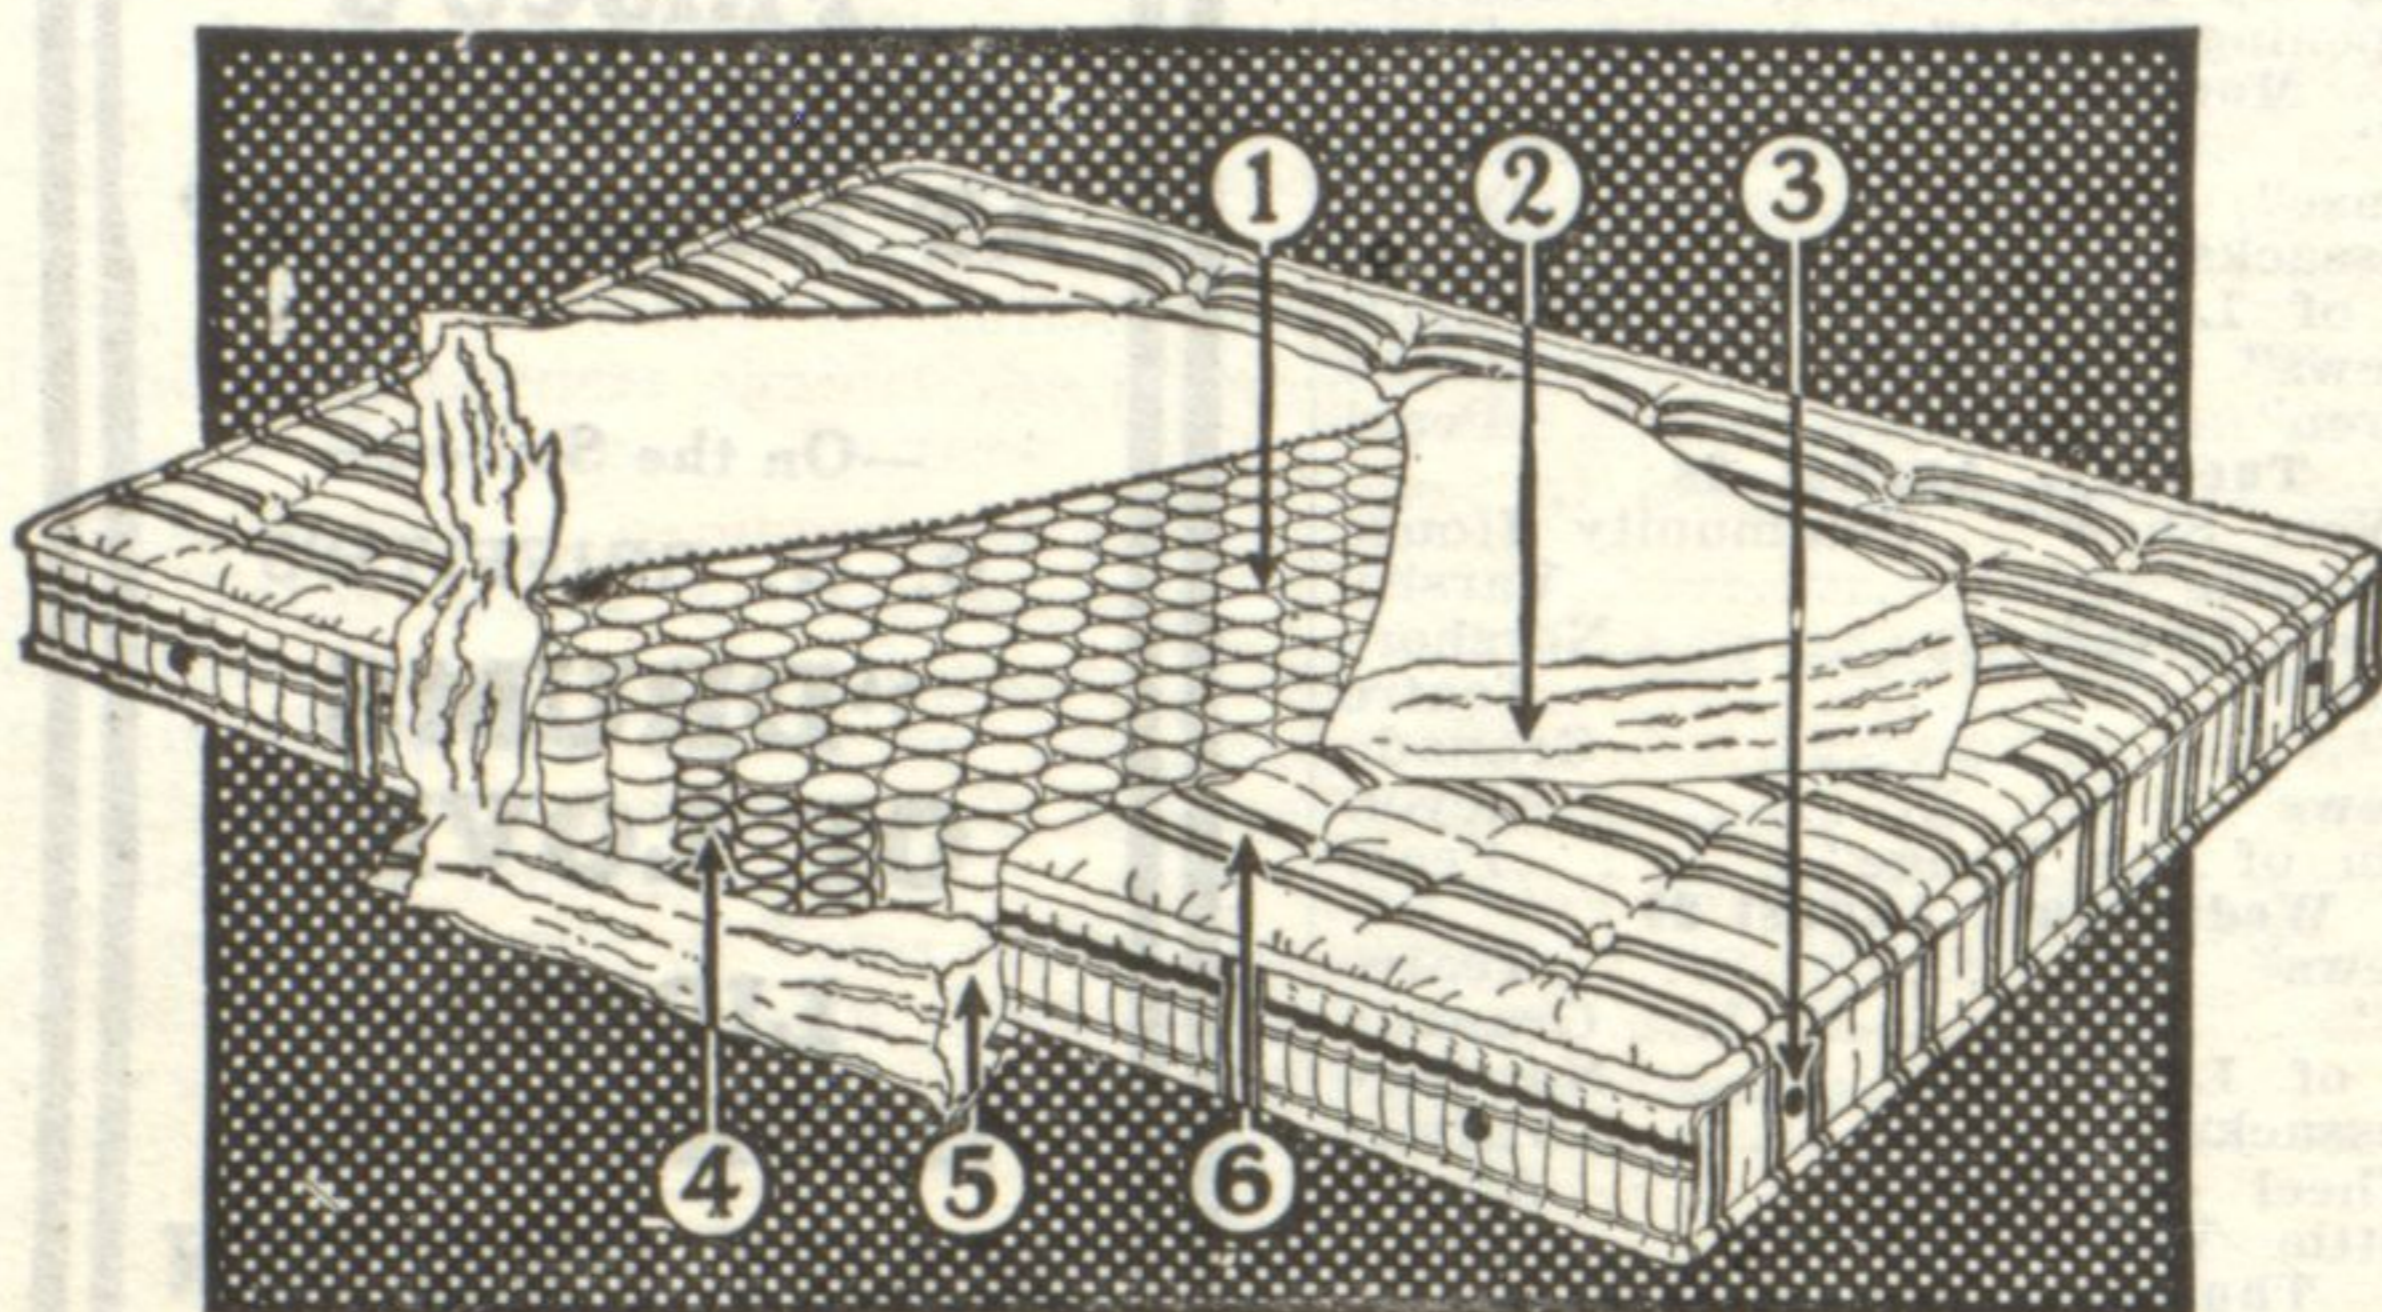

The Illini open October 6 against Bradley Tech of Peoria, one of the leading college teams of the Middle-West. The following week-end, Coe college of Cedar Rapids, Iowa, will appear at Illinois.

The first out-of-town game comes on November 3 against Michigan at Ann Arbor. November 10 will find the Zupmen playing in the dedication game for the new Butler stadium at Indianapolis. A game with Chicago on November 17 winds up the road trips.

- The schedule is as follows:
- October 6—Bradley at Illinois.
 - October 13—Coe at Illinois.
 - October 20—Indiana at Illinois (Dad's Day).
 - October 27—Northwestern at Illinois (Homecoming).
 - November 3—Michigan at Ann Arbor.
 - November 10—Butler at Indianapolis.
 - November 17—Chicago at Chicago.
 - November 24—Ohio State at Illinois.

Study these comfort diagrams

See how evenly the body is supported by the flexible coils. The spinal column rests in an easy, relaxed position.

Note how the body compresses the sensitive springs to various heights instead of sagging to meet the mattress.

The resilient springs act independently, shaping the luxurious cushion of cotton to conform to all body curves.

Never before has so fine a mattress as the new Beautyrest sold for a price as low.

We are offering our customers this greatest mattress value on the market. Its inner-spring construction insures you years of the finest sleep-luxury.

More than 625 small springs, in separate fabric pockets, give gentle, flexible support to your tired body. Thick layers of new felted cotton, complete a buoyant cushion which cradles your body in the easiest and most restful position. See diagrams.

Until Simmons produced this super-mattress at so low a price, only the rich were able to afford such luxury. Now everyone can enjoy it. Once you have seen the new Beautyrest you will not rest content until you have put it on your bed.

Society Girl to Relate Experiences in Circus

When Miss Elizabeth Chase, Lake Forest society miss, amazed her friends by joining Barnum & Bailey's circus early this summer, she explained that she did it to secure material for an article she intended writing. That she has kept her promise is evidenced by the fact that beginning Monday, August 27, her story, "Seven Days, With Barnum and Bailey's Circus," will be published in the Chicago Herald and Examiner. Miss Chase, who is the daughter of the Samuel T. Chases of Lake Forest, is a noted horsewoman and athlete.

Mrs. J. Herbert Mathison, 84 Abbotsford road, with her sons John and Robert are visiting at the home of Mrs. Mathison's sister, Mrs. Harry Masier, New York City. After their visit in New York they expect to go to Atlantic City and Baltimore, returning home about September 1.
