

Favorites Hold Leads in Tennis Meet at New Trier

As play progressed in the New Trier tennis tournament this week the outstanding favorites advanced towards their goal—the championship. The doubles team of McLain and O'Brien reached the finals by defeating Holter and Fleming in straight sets, 6-3, 6-0, 6-4, and this team is favored to win in the finals match. Seddon-Calvert and Kram-Lange doubles teams will play for the right to meet McLain and O'Brien.

No games were played in the junior division of the tournament, but in the senior singles Whitsett, another favorite and runner-up in last year's tournament, reached the semi-finals by defeating P. Fleming 6-2, 6-4. Unless an upset occurs he will again meet John Sheldon in the finals.
