Zoning Ordinances Go Before Commissioners

The Village council started all over again at its meeting Tuesday evening on the amending ordinances providing for the rezoning of the northwest corner of Elm street and Arbor Vitae road, from "A" residential to "C" commercial, and the designation of certain territory in the village as "AA" residential districts.

The two amending ordinances were ordered engrossed and posted and referred to the Zoning commission.

They had previously passed through these stages, but at the last meeting of the council, when passage was voted upon, there was not a necessary majority present and voting for them to insure adoption.

Noted Pianist Will Give Instruction in Winnetka

Added stimulus to the musical life of Winnetka is promised in the formation of a class here this fall by Earle B. Armil, Chicago pianist.

Mr. Armil, who was heard in private recital here last December, at the home of Mrs. Edgar Crilly, 375 Sheridan road, has been assistant to Silvio Scionti, the well known pianist-pedagogue of the American Conservatory, for the past five years. Prior to his association with Mr. Scionti, Mr. Armil had been an honor student of Rudolph Reuter, and more recently was an honor student of the famous artist, Josef Lhevinne.

Mr. Armil is considered one of the most interesting personalities in the new generation of Chicago musicians. His activities are many-sided, as he is not only an excellent pianist, but also a composer and singer as well. Several of his musical works have been performed in public by leading musicians. He has also been singing under Eric DeLamarter at the Fourth Presbyterian church in Chicago.

Mr. Armil will give private lessons in piano one or two days a week in Winnetka, and will specialize in the training of talented children, whose parents wish them to have early access to the most progressive principles of piano playing, in reference to general musical culture.

HOME FROM RANCH

Miss Elizabeth left last Wednesday for Pocono Hockey Camp in the Pocono mountains near Philadelphia. She made the reserve on the All American Hockey team last year and is going down to get in training for this fall.
