HOME AFTER SUMMER ABROAD

Mr. and Mrs. Walter A. Strong of 1377 Tower road and their two older boys, and Mr. and Mrs. T. K. Webster, Jr., with Miss Elizabeth and Towner, returned to Winnetka last Wednesday after being abroad all summer. Their interesting trip included an air flight from Berlin to Amsterdam where they saw the opening of the Olympic games and where the Strongs' motor awaited them. With this and another car they toured through many of the European countries. The Websters are staying for a week or so with the Strongs until they open up their home at 696 Prospect avenue.

Mr. and Mrs. Morton D. Cahn, 800 Bryant avenue, have returned after a month's absence. They visited in the East mainly at Gloucester, Mass. Upon their return from there they spent last week-end at Antigo, Wis.

J. Burlington Rigg, Noted Baritone, to Reside in Winnetka

It will be of interest in the musical circles of the north shore to know that J. Burlington Rigg, the well known baritone, has moved into his new home at 199 Sheridan road, Winnetka.

The son of a distinguished musician and poet, J. B. Rigg was early in life destined for a musical career and studied vocal art under eminent teachers in Europe.

His early years were devoted to church and oratorio work in his native city of Glasgow, Scotland.

He later was heard in London in concert and appeared at Queen hall and other leading halls under the auspices of the National Sunday league. Soon thereafter he toured the principal cities of Great Britain and Ireland, appearing with Symphony orchestras at Margate, Bournemouth, Harrogate, and many times before Royalty.

His next venture was in opera, and he became principal baritone and played in thirty-five operas, including "The Merry Widow," "The Dollar Princess," "The Geisha," "Amasis," "The Greek Slave," "The Runaway Girl," "Miss Hook of Holland," and others. His tours have taken him to Egypt, Malta, Gibraltar, India, Ceylon, Burmah, Malay states, China, Japan, and he came to the United States to play and sing the leading baritone role in "The Quaker Girl," after a tour of Canada from coast to coast.

He returned to Canada during the World war and enlisted as a private soldier with the Canadian forces, with whom he served with distinction in Belgium and Flanders, returning with the rank of captain.

He re-entered the U. S. A. and immediately took out his citizenship papers and since 1919 he and Mrs. Rigg (Miss Birdyce Mills, A. A. G. O., a well known organist) have been associated with the musical life of Chicago and vicinity. For the last seven years he was soloist at Unity church, Oak Park, and Mrs. Rigg was organist and director for seventeen years.

Captain Rigg is composer and author of many songs both sacred and secular, and he has had the unique experience of recording his own songs on the Vocalion records.

Capt. and Mrs. Rigg are looking forward with pleasure to the pipe organ they will soon be installing in their new Winnetka home.
