Evanston Syndicate Buys Wooded Ground in Glencoe

An Evanston syndicate has just purchased through the City National Bank and Trust company the heavily wooded property with 284 feet of south frontage on Woodlawn just west of Greenwood, Glencoe. The City National Bank and Trust company is trustee for the purchasers.

Homer T. Flory and Albert Olson were the sellers. This property has now been divided into four junior estates, each with 71 feet of south frontage. The syndicate, one of whose members is an architect, plans to build to order on this property four, seven and eight-room, three-bath homes, ranging in price between $25,000 and $30,000. An order is already closed for one of these houses and negotiations are proceeding on two others. Adjoining the property on the west is the beautifully gardened and landscaped estate of Mrs. Flory. Warren Nicols, of Evanston, was the lawyer for the sellers and Robert T. Sherman of Miller, Gorham, Wales, and Nixon for the purchasers. William J. Pickard was the broker for all parties.

Mr. and Mrs. A. W. Payne and their daughter, Frances, have returned to their home at 367 Sunset road after spending the summer in England and on the continent.

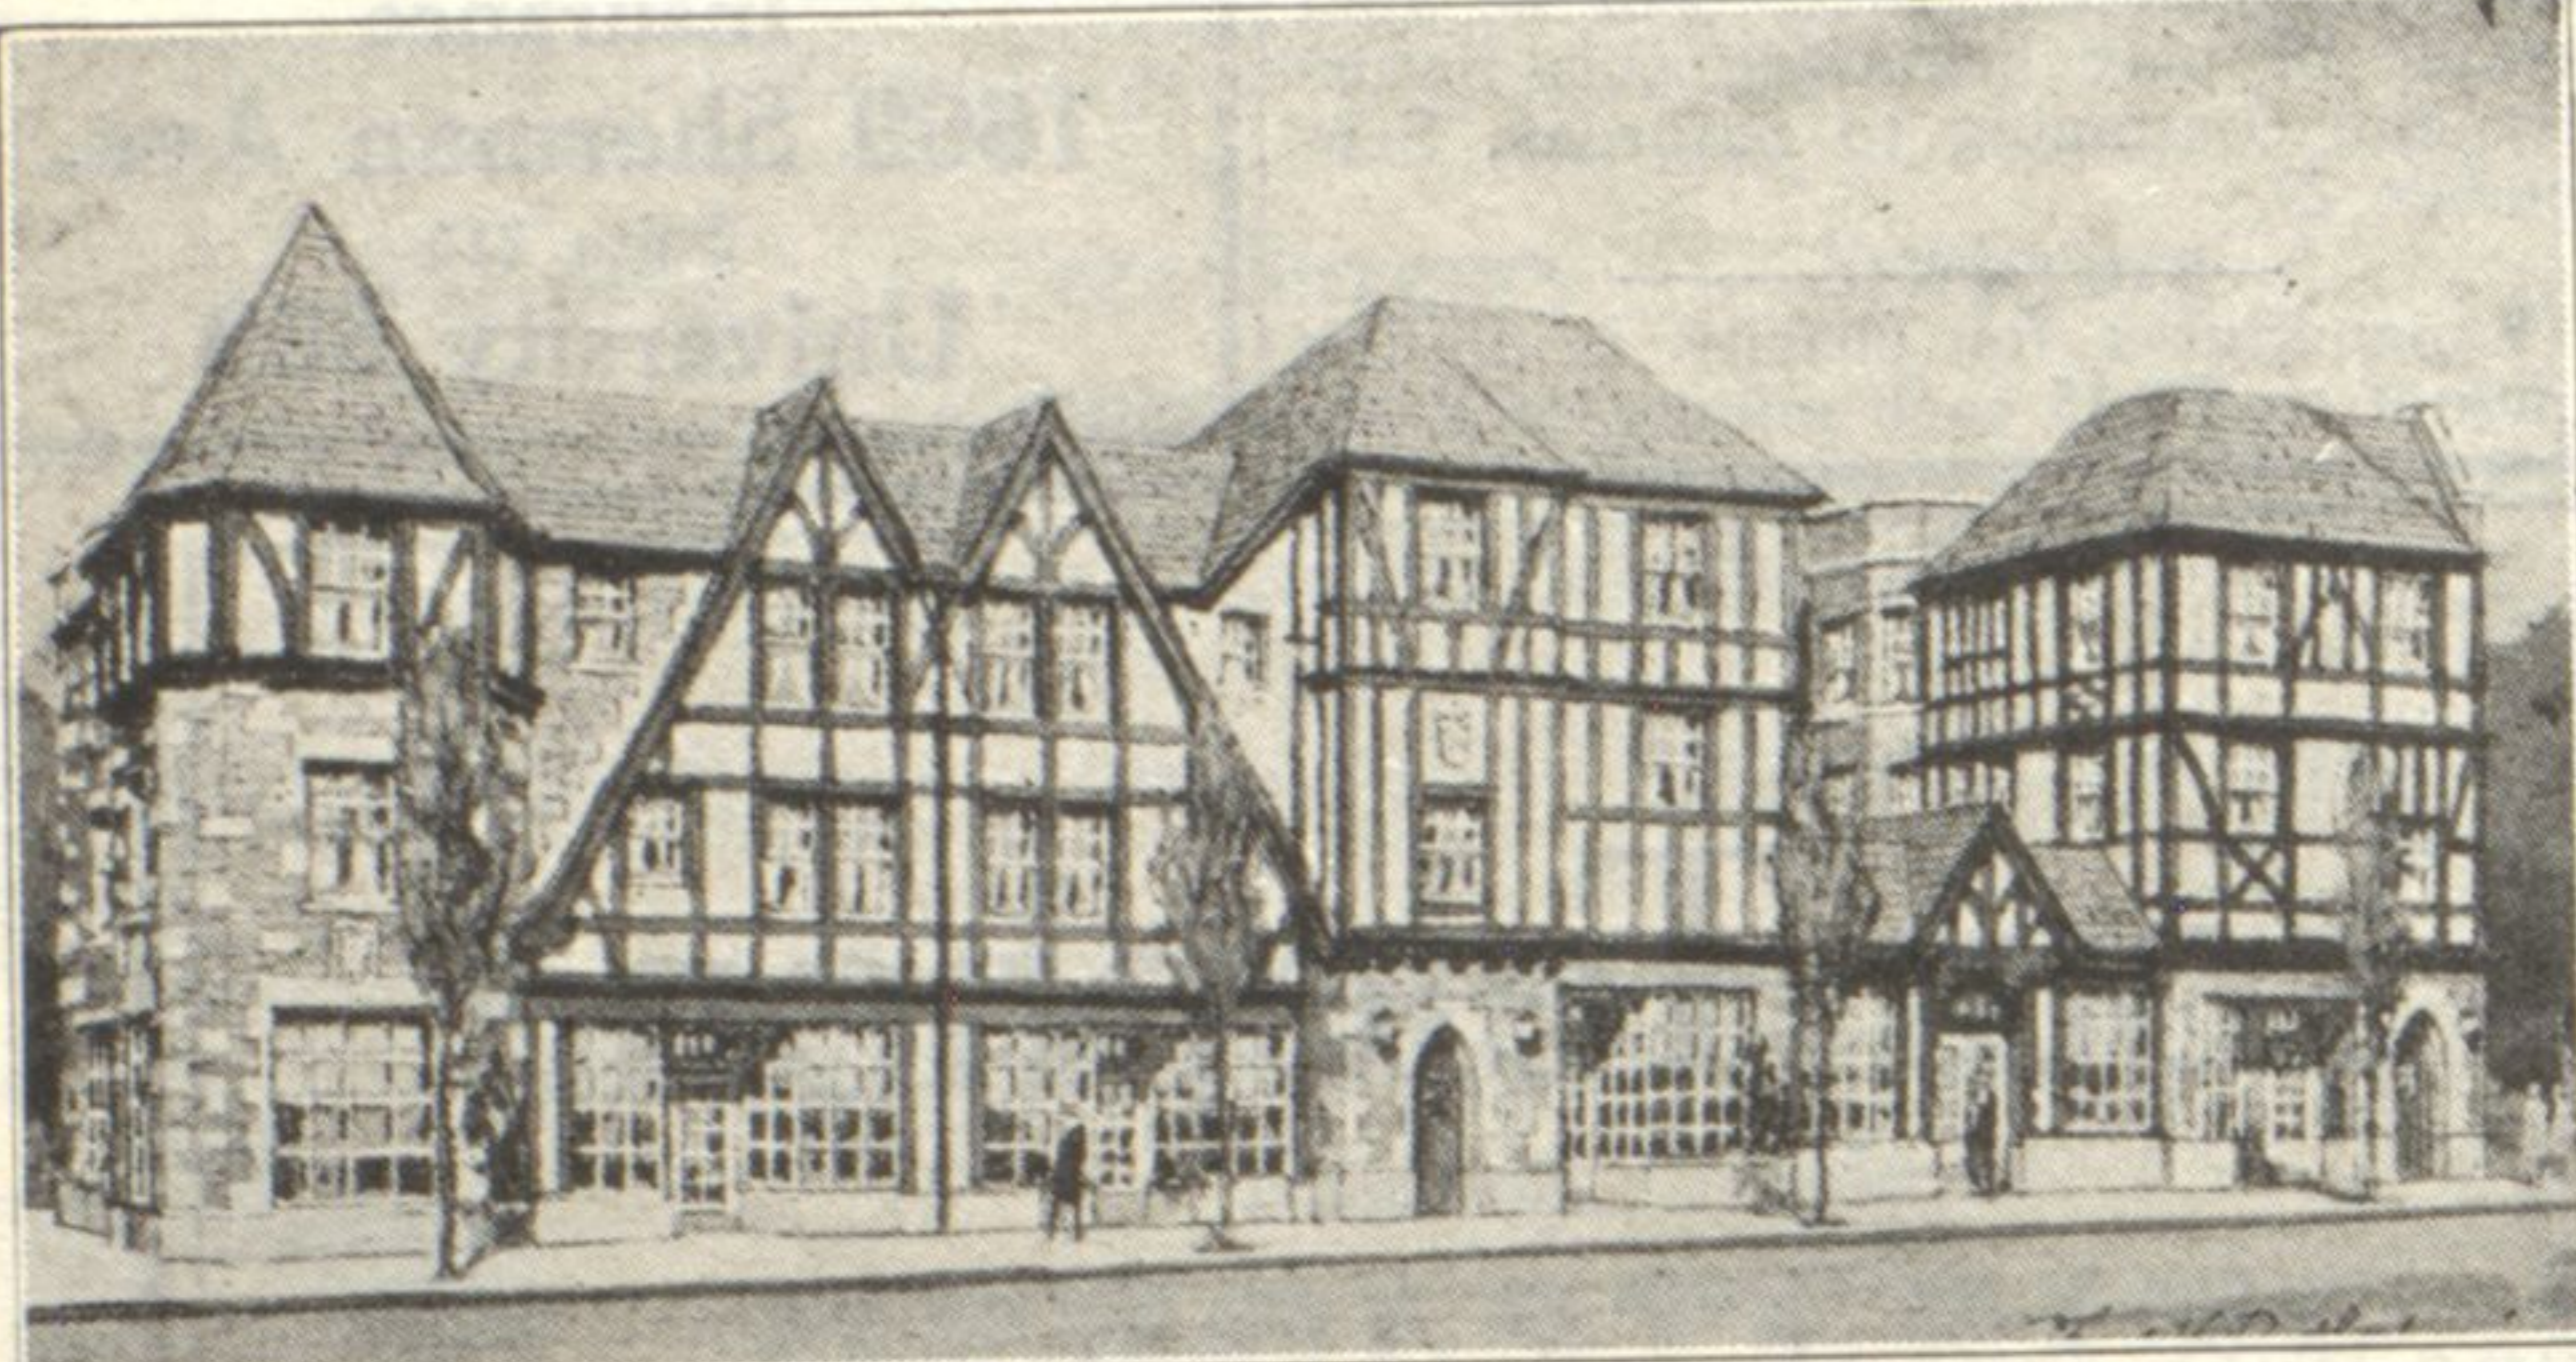

Mrs. C. Colton Daughaday of 180 Chestnut street returned a week ago from the East with her children, William, Colton, and Marion, who have been in camps this summer.

Varsity Theater to Show "Home James" Next Week

Douglas Fairbanks, Jr., and Jobyna Ralston, have the leading roles in "The Toilers," which will be shown at the Varsity theater in Evanston this Saturday, September 8. The story's locale is a little mining town. Steve (Mr. Fairbanks) lives with a couple of middle aged miners who adore him, and with them works down in the coal mines underneath the ground. On Christmas eve he rescues an orphaned Mary from what is commonly spoken of as "worse than death" and from then on the three miners have Mary on their hands. At first all of them strenuously object to her company. Then love hits Steve and he falls. It takes a gruesome mine disaster to bring the other two around.

"Home James," with Laura LaPlante and Charles DeLaney is the Varsity attraction for next Monday, Tuesday, and Wednesday. Miss LaPlante impersonates a young lady who leaves the small town in which she lives to become a great success in New York as a portrait and landscape painter. She fails to realize her dream even as her stepmother and everybody else had prophesied she would, and obtains a position as clerk in a department store, where she labors in the picture department. But she doesn't let the folks know the truth. She makes them sick with glowing reports that finally bring Stepmamma and a bosom crab to the city to see what they shall see. In the meantime, Laura has been having a romance with one whom she believes to be a chauffeur, but who is really the son of Lacey, who owns the department store.

The W. C. T. U. of Wilmette and Winnetka is to meet at the home of Mrs. Charles Aspenwall, 1195 Tower road, next Monday, September 10, at 2 o'clock.
