

Army Chaplain Solicits Aid in Sunday Services

Francis M. Case of Hubbard Woods has been conducting the Sunday morning services at Fort Sheridan for the C. M. T. C., that large body of citizen soldiers drawn from the nearby states, and also teaching the Bible class of the men of the Regular Army for a few Sundays, in the absence of Newell C. Knight who organized this class.

Now that the summer training camp is over, these men and associates are continuing the Sunday morning Bible classes among the enlisted men of the Great Lakes Training station.

Chaplain A. V. Simoni of the Fort Sheridan station is anxious to have Protestant services for the men of the regular army and their wives, Sunday mornings, at 9 o'clock, and assistance from north shore ministers or laymen to conduct these services, is being solicited.

GIVES BENEFIT BRIDGE

A large number of alumnae of St. Patrick's academy living on the north shore attended the benefit bridge given by Mrs. Frederick D. Breit of 422 Essex road, Kenilworth Monday for the building fund of the chapel of the new St. Patrick's academy at Des Plaines.

Mr. and Mrs. Sam Fleager and their four children have returned to their home at 952 Pine street after a month's outing in a cottage they rented at Eagle River, Wis.

The R. A. Olson's of 174 Woodland avenue will be home tomorrow after spending the summer at Round Lake, Ill.
