Line Is Big Job for Coach Hanley of Purple Squad

Efforts to transform several of last season's backfield men into linemen proved to be the first step taken by Coach Hanley to bolster up the Northwestern forward wall this year. Admittedly pleased with his backfield material, the Wildcat mentor has grave misgivings concerning his line candidates' ability to withstand the brunt of the heavy season which faces the Purple this fall.

Development of reserve strength for the guard, tackle and center jobs is the big task facing the Purple coaching staff at this stage of the season.

Henry Sinkler and John Hazen, two veterans from last year's eleven are the only experienced tackles. Sinkler is a hefty individual towering 6 feet 3 inches and weighing 198 pounds. Hazen is 6 feet tall and weighs 172. Both are counted upon to turn in creditable performances.

Should one of these men become incapacitated their place must be filled by inexperienced sophomores none of whom have displayed anything to cause the coaches to cheer lustily about. Among these tackle aspirants are William Hall, Fred Hall, Dwight Scott, Nels Vanderberg, Norm Christiansen, Cliff Luttring, James Vail and Bob Edwards. With the exception of Bill Hall who weighs 192 the other men are quite light.

The guard assignments are in much the same fix. Two veterans, Jus Dart and Henry Anderson are available. Dart is a senior weighing around 195 and Anderson, a junior weighs 182 pounds.

Reserve strength for these two positions centers about the somewhat doubtful ability of such newcomers as Francis Sullivan, Bob Sinks, Joe Spadea, John Singleton and William Pollock.

Mickey Erickson is the lone veteran center candidate. He is a 192 pound individual who should handle the first string assignment creditably. Don Green, Fred Crook and Dick Vachulka are the sophomore center aspirants. Green is promising but the others have yet to convince the coaches of their ability.

The same situation as in the above mentioned positions holds true at the end jobs. Tom Verdell, the negro end is the only varsity candidate back. Waldo Fisher, George Panosh and Luke Johnsos, last year's regulars are gone.

Among the more promising yet inexperienced flankmen are Wade Woodworth, Frank Baker, Larry Oliphant, Ted Egbert, and Don Massie. Rut Walter, track and basketball star, is trying out for an end job but just what he will be able to do is yet to be seen.

SCHIPA AT LUNCHEON

Mrs. Margaret Grace of Chicago entertained at luncheon at the Club Vista del Lago Thursday. Among her guests were Tito Schipa and Montgomery, New York violinist.

Mr. and Mrs. Frederick W. Gookin, Miss Gookin and Mrs. Nathalie S. Kennedy are returning from their summer home in Colorado and will occupy their Winnetka residence at 321 Linden street on September 22.

Miss Mary Lannen and Miss Pearl Munro of Wilmette left Sunday night for Rockford, Ill. where they will attend Rockford Women's college.

Mrs. Oliver S. Picher of Glencoe and her son, Stanton, left for the East last Sunday. Stanton will attend Exeter academy this winter.

"I'm so glad we changed to Selected Milk"

"The children just love it. We don't have to coax them to drink 'Selected.' They enjoy it with every meal and often ask for a second glass."

Mothers everywhere are happy over the way their children take to Selected Milk and thrive on it.

Grown-ups enjoy "Selected." You will keep your vacation vigor longer if you start drinking at least two glasses a day.

"Selected" is the better drinking milk because of the extra care and supervision it receives at the dairy farms where it is produced.

Compare the Sweet Natural Taste of "Selected" and you will understand why many families are changing to this better drinking milk.

You'll like Borden's Cream, too. Has a mild, pleasing flavor and keeps sweet.
