"WHAT THE WELL DRESSED MAN WILL WEAR THIS FALL"

NECKWEAR:—The new all-over patterns and solid colors will continue to be good. Colors will be darker for fall, but the pastel shades will be worn in smaller quantities than they did for spring. A new stripe is showing itself, called cluster stripe, which is a series or group of fine, close set, narrow contrasting colored stripes set far apart on a solid dark ground. These groups of small stripes are set so close together that they appear to be one stripe. The spade end and blunt end narrow dress tie is more popular than ever. The wide butterfly tie is on the decline.

Great Scott—How He Jumps

Here's Great Scott, owned by John Hartnett, of Winnetka (in the saddle) winner of three ribbons at the Lake Forest Horse Show and capturer of five more, including two blues, at the Palatine Society horse show. He is considered one of the best horses Mr. Hartnett ever owned.

FALL SPECIALTIES

Patty Shells for chicken patties are now most seasonable. We are fortunate in the knack of making a patty shell that is wonderfully light and flaky and has the capacity to hold its contents as a patty shell should.

Chocolate Eclairs — the favorite dessert of the children.

A variety of Cream Pies.

Doughnuts for snappy morning breakfast.
