Winnetka Scout suggests camp name—I went to Wisconsin a few weeks ago to see the camp site. On my way home we drove through the Menominee Indian Reservation. We stopped an old Indian and asked him to tell us in the Menominee Indian language what Spring Lake would be. He told us "Mo-ka-jawon." This is very easy to say and sounds good. I thought that this name would be good because the Menominee Indians inhabited that part of the country.—Scout James R. Goetz, Jr., 460 Locust road, Winnetka, Troop 18, Winnetka.

Troop 2 under full swing again—Troop 2 of the Wilmette Congregational church held its opening fall meeting last Tuesday under the leadership of Scoutmaster Ewart Cook. Troop Committeemen K. D. TIME

Time is one of the great riddles of the ages. Every one of us has the same amount of it—twenty-four hours each day.

We are all alike, too, in having today. Yesterday is gone. Tomorrow may never come—so that every living person has today, this hour, this minute at his disposal.

We do, however, differ greatly in the ways we use this little measure of time; we differ in what we put into it and therefore of course we differ in what we take out of it. Some idle away their chances, others use them to move onward and upward in life.

The Scout realizes that lost time, like the water that has passed beneath the bridge, is gone forever; he recognizes that with time he cannot (fox-like) "Back-track"—he passes this way once and then that day's chance for "Good turns," for cordiality, for cheerfulness, for self-improvement, for learning, for thrift—that day's chance is GONE—it never returns.

So Scouts value time and use it thriftily and with purpose!

Scouts Welcome Return of Their Scoutmaster

YEA! We've got a new Scoutmaster! Such were the cries that went up from the basement of the Wilmette Congregational church on Tuesday, September 11. This new Scoutmaster is William Ewart Cook of Troop 2, Wilmette. He was formerly the Scoutmaster of the same troop before 1926. For the past three years "Ewie" has been Scoutmaster of a troop in Ravenswood. Troop 2 should now come to the front in Inter-troop activities in the North Shore Area because of his widespread experience both as a Scoutmaster and as a Scout in old Troop 2 is the first Boy Scout troop organized west of the Alleghenies. When Mr. Cook was the Scoutmaster in the past, Troop 2 was the foremost troop in Wilmette. The old scouts in the troop tell of the days when "Ewie" was Scoutmaster and we ran away with all the rallies and contests. Troop 2 expects to have a bang-up year—Let's Go!—Jim Baker and Dave Davis, Troop 2.

Good Turn Brings Him Seat in U. S. Congress

Hon. James Davis, for years representing Missouri in Washington—where he has been active in Scout work, told this story last year at a Washington Scout celebration. He said: "One morning when I was about 20 years old, I was riding my horse into 'town' when by the road side, I came upon a boy, a mule, and a fallen sack of corn. The boy was helpless to reload. I got off my horse—removed my coat—loaded him and the corn on the mule and went on my way forgetting the incident.

A score of years had passed and I was a candidate for Congress, in the primaries. I had heard that in one corner of the "enemy's country" there was a fellow who was getting votes for me but I did not know him. I was nominated by 47 votes. At the country seat speechmaking which followed, a big, sturdy, young man elbowed his way through the crowd to the stand and extended his hand, saying: "I don't suppose you remember me," and I said, "No, I do not." "Well, he said, "do you remember a boy, a mule, and a sack of corn in the road some twenty years ago—and you the fourth man to pass, stopped to help me on my horse?" "Well," he said "I'm that boy, and I vowed that day that I'd repay you some day and I've done it. We gave you a majority of 68 votes in our township."

Hiking Scouts Extinguish Forest Fire in Far West

A group of Boy Scouts out for a day's hike near their camp in the vicinity of Piper's Canyon, Seattle, Wash., found that fire, starting near the highway and probably caused by the cigarette of a careless motorist, running through brush and grass, threatened a heavy stand of timber nearby. Without waiting to summon aid the boys, five in number, attempted to extinguish the flames. With brooms, wet sacks and canvas and such camp equipment as was suitable for Scouts, fought the fire, winning out finally after a quarter of a mile had been traversed by the flames.

Scout Employs Training to Save Life of a Chum

When a long knife with which they were playing mumbly peg severed an artery in the leg of Henry Jones, 14 of East Orange, N. J., recently, his playmate, Andrew Miller, 14, Boy Scout, applied a tourniquet which stopped the flow of blood and prevented serious injury. The ambulance surgeon who was called to the scene of the accident commended the Scout for his very efficient work. The tourniquet was made out of a handkerchief which the Scout put around his companion's leg and twisted with a pencil until the flow of blood stopped.
