

ADDRESSES ROTARIANS

A number of north shore rotarians attended the meeting of the Rotary club of Chicago, Tuesday at the Hotel Sherman to hear Vivian Carter, London editor. He is now editor of Rotarian, magazine of Rotary international.

The Laird Bell family of 1352 Tower road, Winnetka, returned recently after spending a few weeks at the Huron Mountain club.

Charles Sommer, 425 Provident avenue, has returned home from his vacation in Canada.

Preaching Mission to Be Held at Glencoe Church

The Rev. Irving P. Johnson, D. D., bishop of Colorado, will conduct a preaching mission at the Church of St. Elisabeth in Glencoe each evening at 8 o'clock beginning this Sunday, September 30, and running through next Sunday, October 7, with the exception of Saturday, October 6.

Bishop Johnson is a widely known preacher and will come to Glencoe with an established reputation in the religious world. Residents of the north shore, regardless of church affiliations, have been invited to the church of St. Elisabeth to hear him.

A preaching mission, as defined in a recent bulletin of the mission committee of the church, is "a concentration of spiritual effort upon one place for a short time."

Purple Faces Two Hard Games in One Day Next Saturday

The task of meeting two varsity teams on the same day confronts the Northwestern football eleven when it clashes with Butler university and Loyola university at Evanston Saturday afternoon, October 6. The Purple varsity will clash with Butler in the first game of the double bill and the Wildcat reserves will meet Loyola university of Chicago in the after piece.

Both these visiting teams have strong aggregations and will place a severe test on Coach Hanley's proteges. The Butler Bulldogs are coached by Patsy Clark, famous Illinois player, who has gained considerable recognition in the coaching field.

Much of Butler's hope in the coming tilt will depend on John Cavosie, their backfield ace who is reputed to be the best product seen at Butler in years. He is a sophomore weighing 195 pounds, a good kicker, splendid passer, and something of a sensation at reeling off yardage. Other backfield hopes are Francis Royce, 170 pound letterman; Maurice Baker, fullback letterman; Alan Fromuth, quarterback, who does most of the kicking and passing; Oral Hutchins, good left handed passer, and Hubert Hinchman, fullback.

Bulldog Line Strong

The Bulldog line is also something to talk about with several 200 pounders on the list. Robert Schopf, Willard Warth, and George Haftzger, all lettermen, will probably see most of the service at tackle. The guards include George Fredenberger, junior letterman; William McCarthy, 190 pound sophomore, and Bill Bugg, 190 pound senior.

Some fleet ends are included in the following quartet of veterans; Alonzo Watford, fullback last year but now playing at a flank job; Herman Geisert, Howard Crosby and Wilho, Maki, nicknamed "The Fleet Finn." James Puett, sophomore center, is the biggest man on the squad, weighing 210 pounds. Hamilton Clark is the other pivot man.

Loyola expects much from its sophomores this fall with much promising new blood coming up from the frosh. Larry Faul, a halfback, is a good prospect to replace Griffin. Downs, of last year's eleven, is back and will hold down one of the backfield jobs. Other prospects are Malloy, Murphy, Etu, and Shanahan.

Hold Tryouts Soon for New Trier Debate Team

Tryouts for the New Trier High school debating team will be held within the next three weeks, it was announced this week at the high school. The loss of Rolland Simonds, winner of the Illinois-Wisconsin extemporaneous speaking contest and member of the new Trier debating squad last year, will be keenly felt. Frank Gilchrist, leader of last year's negative team, will be missed also. John Erickson and Bob Forster, regulars of last year, are back in school and will bolster New Trier's hopes for a winning debate team this year.

Mrs. B. F. Ellsberry has been the guest of Mr. and Mrs. John E. Hicks, 241 Melrose avenue, Kenilworth. Mrs. Ellsberry is Mrs. Hicks' sister.

Mrs. Sanford Holden, 527 Warwick road, Kenilworth, entertained a few of her Chicago friends at luncheon on Wednesday.

Mrs. John C. Carpenter, 239 Essex road, Kenilworth, entertained her luncheon club on Friday of last week.

Mrs. W. W. Wheelock of 132 Oxford road, Kenilworth, is home from a short trip to Memphis, Tenn.
