

North Shore Women Act on Theatre Guild Committees

Select Committees for Theatre Guild Membership Drive

BY EVELYN DUNCAN

Those who attended the reception last Sunday afternoon given at Mrs. Walter Strong's home at 1377 Tower road, Hubbard Woods, for Walter Pritchard Eaton under the auspices of the auspices of the North Shore Theatre guild, were pleasantly instructed and amusingly entertained by Mr. Eaton's talk on "Little Theatres." His personality and manner of talking combined with the questions of his audience gave exactly the right touch of informality to the occasion. At the tea which followed Mrs. Arthur Boetcher, wife of the president of the organization, and Miss Hickman of Evanston poured.

All officers, chairmen and members of the guild, have started working through various channels to insure a successful year's work. Mrs. Sherman Aldrich of Winnetka, a member of the board of directors, is general chairman of the membership campaign, most of which will be carried on through the town committees. Durgin, Frank Eager, Leland Pierson, Roger Jenness, Merle Snyder, Harry Burnside, Ernest Freeman, William J. Flynn, Richard Jordan, David P. Moreton, Edwin B. Knudtson, Herbert Smith, Edmond M.
