Varsity Theater Shows Timely Baseball Film

As the baseball season in the big league ends and the attention of sports fans is directed to the world's series, the Varsity theater of Evanston is now showing a timely picture, "Warming Up," with Richard Dix. It is a story of baseball, and a first class picture too.

Richard Dix, in the role of the bushier who makes good with the Yankees and wins the girl from the villainous Pittsburgh star pitcher, is as likeable as ever and his director and cast couldn't have been improved upon. Jean Arthur is his leading lady. The ball game in the picture is a dandy, and the cheering of the crowds is portrayed well with the help of sound attachments.

The Imperial Russian Cossacks, Moscow's favorite musicians, and Harry Delf, Broadway comedian, are also on the vitaphone at the Varsity this Friday and Saturday.

"Lights of New York," the first picture in which every character talks, will be the Varsity presentation for next Monday, Tuesday, and Wednesday. This melodrama of Manhattan night life aroused a lot of attention from the New York critics. The picture is full of murder and attempted crime. The cast is headed by Helene Costello, Wheeler Oakman, Cullen Landis, and Gladys Brockwell.

Short subjects on the Varsity vitaphone next Monday, Tuesday, and Wednesday will be Ed Lowry and his orchestra and the Foy family.
