

Ball and Carnival November 30 Is Arden Shore Benefit

Annual Arden Shore Ball and Carnival to Be Gay Affair

BY JEAN TEN BROECK

Gayer, more comprehensive, more brilliant than ever before, is to be the Arden Shore ball on Friday evening, November 30, if the present plans of the Chicago committee of the Arden Shore association, which is sponsoring the affair, are true prognostications.

Tickets were put on sale Monday for the event, which, this year, introduces something new, carnival diversions as well as dancing.

The Palmer House will be the locale for the event, always a large one on society's calendar. The Red Lacquer room will provide the colorful background for the carnival, the Grand ballroom for the dancing and the fashion revue staged by one of Chicago's smartest shops whose evening gowns and evening wraps will be displayed by a group of about twenty Chicago and north shore debutantes.

Arrangements underway for the Arden Shore ball are these:

Bright balloons and bunting will further enhance the Red Lacquer room to provide a carnivalesque setting for many booths, booths where games of skill may be played, a golf booth where a putting clock will be put to use, one for a grab bag, one for tin-types, and one for a fortune teller. Various Chicago stores and shops are donating the prizes to be given for the games.

From midnight, until about 1:30, the Carnival will close so that the guests may assemble in the Grand ballroom where the fashion revue will take place.

Mrs. Herbert S. Nock is chairman of the ball this season. Miss Bertha Palmer is in charge of boxes, the first of which already has been sold to Mrs. Rockefeller McCormick.

Mrs. Warren Hines Clarke heads the advertising and program committee. Mrs. Phelps Dunham is corresponding secretary and Miss Betty Borden and Miss Dorothy Ranney head the debutantes who will be mannequins. Miss Elaine Blackwell is in charge of decorations, and Mrs. Richard Gambrill, Jr., publicity and entertainment. Mrs. Francis Edward of 257 East Delaware place, Chicago, is in charge of the ticket sale.

Webster-Hinman Wedding Solemnized Last Saturday

At the lovely wedding of Miss Elizabeth Webster and Sturtevant Hinman which took place last Saturday afternoon at Christ church, autumn shades were the predominant note. The decorations in the church and at the reception which followed at the home of the bride's uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Strong, in Hubbard Woods, were autumn leaves and chrysanthemums and the fall shades of orange and brown were carried out in the gowns of the bride's attendants.

The bridal gown was a Paris model of ivory satin made with a court train and trimmed with lace. The veil was of lace and the bridal bouquet was of lillies-of-the-valley, sweet peas, and gardenias.

Mrs. Perry E. Buchanan, matron of honor, and Miss Helen G. Oakley of Montclair, N. J., maid of honor, were gowned respectively in the dark shades of brown and orange chiffon and velvet. The bridesmaids, Miss Constance E. Green, Miss Jane P. Bertschy, Miss Fanny K. Young, Miss Dorothy A. Barrett, and Miss Jeanette Keller, were in frocks of the lighter shades of orange brown. All the attendants wore hats of various shades of brown felt and carried arm bouquets of chrysanthemums.

Anne Strong and Emily Webster, flower girls, were dressed in chiffon of a pale apricot shade and carried baskets of bronze and yellow chrysanthemums.

Norman Hinman of Barrington served Mr. Hinman as best man and the ushers included Henry Kitchell Webster, Jr., Towner K. Webster, III, John R. Witman, John Smalley, Perry B. Buchanan, Roger Sherman, Douglas Flood, George W. Dawson, Jr. and George Giles.

Montague Irwin, vice-president for Minnesota of the Great Lakes-St. Lawrence Tidewater association, gave a splendid talk on the Inland Waterways project. Mrs. Irwin stated that this project is one of the main issues of the campaign and that the people in the central part of the country should be vitally interested. About forty million persons, according to Mrs. Irwin, are directly affected.

At the close of the speeches, tea was served.

Among those present were Mrs. Frank Blatchford, Mrs. Frederick Scott, Mr. and Mrs. William Otis, Mrs. Donald McPherson, Mrs. Victor Elting, and Mr. and Mrs. John VanderVries.

Touch of Autumn Contributes Charm to Recent Wedding

Miss Mary-Louise Fenton of Winnetka became the bride of Gerald Horton, son of Mrs. E. B. Horton of Wilmette, at one of the most beautiful of the fall weddings, last Wednesday evening at 8:30 o'clock. Rev. E. Ashley Gerhard read the service at the candlelit altar in Christ church which was decorated with a profusion of white chrysanthemums. At the small reception which followed at the home of the bride's father, Howard Fenton, yellow flowers of the same variety were used in the decoration.

The bride's gown was made in Elizabethan style of ivory velvet with tight bodice and long full skirt with a train. There was a yoke and bits of d'Alencon lace at the wrists which matched the veil of the same kind of lace. The veil hung from a Juliette cap of pearls.

The matron of honor, Mrs. Stanley Morrill, wore a gown of brown tulle over gold cloth, cut extremely long on the left side. Her slippers were gold and she carried Gaiety roses. The maid of honor, Miss Honore White, wore a wistaria colored gown which had a large yellow velvet bow in front matching her gold slippers and carried a shower bouquet of yellow roses.

The four bridesmaids, Miss Louise Sherman, Miss Pauline Wolff, Mrs. John A. Thompson of Chicago, and Miss Vesper Getman of Evanston, all wore gowns fashioned of chrysanthemum yellow chiffon made with bouffant skirts short in front and very long in back. The green artificial flowers on the shoulders of the dresses were matched by the green satin slippers which they wore and the coloring of their dresses was found in the bouquets of yellow roses and lavender sweet peas which they carried.

Kenneth Horton served his brother as best man and the ushers were William W. Miller, John A. Thompson, C. Winslow Tarbet, Charles Milton McCrae, Craig C. Velie, and Howard M. Sharp.
