A GREATER SKOKIE SCHOOL—The new Hibbard school gymnasium addition now under construction is to be of Colonial style and will harmonize in architectural expression and mass composition with the present building. The picture shows how the school buildings will appear when the addition is completed. The new addition will contain Boys' and Girls' gymnasiums, locker rooms, a cafeteria and lunch room providing 500 seats, a group of five manual training shops and a study hall. As the present gymnasium, given as a memorial to William Gold Hibbard, is to be converted to other uses the new building will be known as the Hibbard Gymnasium. Hamilton, Fellows and Wilkinson were the architects.
