Open New Road Crossing at Kenilworth in 10 Days

Paving of the new railroad crossing connecting the east and west sides of Kenilworth avenue in Kenilworth was completed early this week. The date for opening the crossing to traffic has not been set, but will probably be in about ten days, according to Village Manager F. L. Streed.

Cars approaching the railroad tracks from the east can now cross directly instead of making a jog to the south as was formerly necessary. Work on the improvement was started about three weeks ago, and the cost will be divided between the village of Kenilworth, the North Shore line, and the Chicago and North Western railway.

In connection with the crossing improvement the North Shore line has installed at its own expense platform lights similar to the regular Kenilworth street lights, and arrangements have been made with the village to maintain these lights for an annual service charge. Shrubbery has been planted along both platforms of the North Shore line at the Kenilworth avenue station.

CHILDREN COOK LUNCHEON

The first grade children of Hubbard Woods school cooked their own lunch last Thursday in the playhouse at the home of Mrs. Robert S. Hammond, 1217 Asbury avenue. This Thursday they will go to the home of Mrs. Erskine Wilder, 1011 Hubbard lane, for lunch.

Mrs. A. Roy Hulbert, 31 Richmond road, Kenilworth, has as her guest for a few days Miss Margaret Mayhew. Miss Mayhew is a former resident of Kenilworth.

Mr. and Mrs. E. F. Hartshorn, 943 Spruce street, entertained a few friends at bridge at their home Thursday evening, November 1.

Big "Mum" Show
Coming to Chicago
Monday, Nov. 12

For the first time in seven years, Chicago will have a flower show this fall. Monday afternoon, November 12, at 2 o'clock, the Grand Ball room of the Stevens hotel will be the mecca of all flower lovers of Chicago and surrounding towns. At this time will be ushered in, the National Chrysanthemum Flower show; in an unsurpassed setting, with over-changing lighting effects flooding the fifty thousand blooms and plants which will be on display from all over the United States. The entire huge ball room of over 14,000 square feet of space, will be like a bower of flowers, which with the changing lighting effects will create a scene of beauty never before attempted.

The Chrysanthemum Society of America is staging its annual show in Chicago for the first time. The Illinois State Florists' association is staging its annual show in connection with the 'Mum' show, which will give to Chicago a National show in the full sense of the word. Noted flower specialists from all over the United States are preparing prize blooms for display and in competition with other growers. Eric Buchholz, the noted landscape artist is just back from Europe, full of new ideas on flower show staging. Mr. Buchholz promises the public, he will stage this show in an entirely different fashion than heretofore attempted; taking the best ideas of the famous London flower show and the huge show staged annually in Berlin and incorporating them into the Chicago show, so that all the blooms exhibited will show to the best advantage and so they may be viewed by the public at their best.

Chrysanthemums, the queen of flowers, one of nature's most lovely gifts; wonderful rare orchids; graceful, friendly, nodding roses of every variety known to the floriculture world, pompoms; rose plants; cyclamen plants; exquisite carnations; in fact, all the most beautiful products of floral establishments from all over the country, will be there for the public to see and enjoy. The University of Illinois together with the various park boards will also stage exhibits of their blooms.

The show will be officially opened Monday, November 12, at 2 o'clock and will be open to the public daily till 10 o'clock in the evening to Friday, November 16, inclusive.
