

Kenilworth Shows Marvelous Gain in Building Activity

Indication that building will be sustained in the Chicago area during the winter months was evidenced this week by a check-up in suburban building for the month just closed.

According to S. W. Straus and Company which has completed a survey of the metropolitan area, the building for forty-one suburbs for the month of October amounted to $8,156,858.

Building in the suburbs generally amounted to approximately the same volume in October as in October, 1927, with the exception of Gary which, for the second time in the last few months, has materially reduced the volume of building in the Chicago area because of losses in its own building construction program.

While Kenilworth had a comparatively small volume its gain was phenomenal with a percentage of increase in October as against the same month last year of 15,216 per cent. Whiting was the next largest in point of gain with an increase of 1015 but Whiting's volume, on which this percentage was built, was small being only $5,700 in October last year.

Wilmette showed a reduction in building from October, 1927, while Winnetka and Gencoe showed moderate gains.

The gains for last month over the same month a year ago were principally made in the smaller suburbs. Oak Park, Joliet and Evanston all showed losses with Waukegan, Elgin, Hammond and Cicero as the larger suburbs showing gains. Aurora was practically even with last year.

The October gains in the suburbs were as follows: Arlington Heights 458 percent, Batavia 590 percent, Berwyn 18 per cent, Blue Island 159 percent, Calumet City 38 percent, Chicago Heights 17 percent, Cicero 79 percent, Glen Ellyn 1 percent, Harvey 38 percent, Hinsdale 93 percent, Kenilworth 15,216 percent, La Grange 324 percent, Mount Prospect 21 percent, Park Ridge 28 per cent, River Forest 299 percent, Waukegan 28 percent, Winnetka 32 percent, Hammond 29 percent and Whiting 1015 percent.

Coach Hawley to Appear in Radio Talk Nov. 23

Five hundred gallons of New England rum have a unique place in the traditions of Dartmouth, for it was on the basis of this potent beverage that Eleazar Wheelock turned a neat educational deal with the Indians and founded the college.

This and other Dartmouth traditions will be related by Jess Hawley, Dartmouth coach, and former Wilmette resident, over WMAQ, Friday night, November 23, from 10:25 to 10:35 o'clock as part of the second annual Dartmouth Pow Wow at Chicago. This year the Pow Wow precedes the game played by Dartmouth and Northwestern university, Saturday, November 24.

Kenilworth Home, Garden Club Sees "Mum" Show

The Home and Garden club of Kenilworth met on Monday of this week, with twenty-five members present, and after a luncheon at the Illinois Women's Athletic club, attended the chrysanthemum show now being held at the Stevens hotel. The report of the gorgeous flower display is most enthusiastic, great masses of blooms of innumerable varieties presenting a magnificent sight. Mrs. Theodore Moritz is president of this club.

ALL WORK AND NO PLAY!

For many years it has been the custom for real estate salesmen to be on the job 365 days in the year.

Recently the REALTORS of the North Shore have come to the conclusion that their employees, and they themselves, are entitled to that one day a week of rest which is the privilege of the average, normal American.

Our fellow citizens have been most helpful in co-operating with us in our effort to make this unusual departure a success and we greatly appreciate the attitude we have so far encountered.
