

Pioneer Edifice "For Sale"

Lehle Photos

BUILT fifty years ago, this historic tall-spired church of the Evangelical Association, at Dundee and Saunders roads, has been vacant for some time. The Association, a branch of the Methodist denomination, has a new church nearby. The congregation has been in existence for nearly a century, the doomed edifice being the third of the four structures that have thus far served the communicants. At the right is illustrated the chancel of the church. In the foreground is a beautiful solid walnut alter rail still in perfect condition after half century of service. In the background is a remarkable painting depicting the "Open Book" surrounded by a golden crown and flanked by a shock of ripened grain, the vine and clusters of ripened fruit.

Fail to Agree on Phone Franchise in Winnetka

The Illinois Bell Telephone company and the Village of Winnetka appear still to be deadlocked in the matter of the proposed new franchise, according to a report made to the Village council by Trustee Carl J. Easterberg, chairman of the Public Utility committee, Tuesday evening.

He reported recent conferences with the company had again failed in reaching a basis of agreement, particularly with reference to the amount of free telephone service to be granted the village.

The franchise of the Illinois Bell Telephone company in Winnetka expired four years ago.

Mrs. Ayres Boal, 701 Sheridan road, returned home last week-end after visiting her sons, Stewart and Thomas, who are attending Harvard.
