You may see them all on Wednesday evening, December 19, in Matz hall, Community House. And in true Christmas spirit the whole play will be given free to all who can come. Two years ago a child said, "Oh I must help somebody else" as he left the hall after sitting entranced before the lovely story. Many well-known and many new people will take part, and as for the story—well, the Community Drama club has looked and looked for Christmas plays and it has yet to find anything so satisfactory, dramatically and spiritually, as the old-time, beloved "Christmas Carol" by Charles Dickens. Remember the date—Wednesday, December 19.

LITTLE SYMPHONY IN CONCERT NEXT MONDAY

Marian Anderson, Talented Colored Contralto, to Be Soloist With Orchestra

The New Trier Township Orchestral association announces the second concert of the seventh season of orchestral concerts by the Little Symphony orchestra of Chicago, George Dasch, conductor, to be given Monday evening, December 10, at 8:15 o'clock in the New Trier High school auditorium.

The soloist for this concert will be Marian Anderson, gifted young colored contralto.

Miss Anderson was born in Philadelphia. At an early age she showed signs of a real contralto voice and the Peoples' Choral society of Philadelphia encouraged her to study. She was graduated from the Southern High school of Philadelphia at the age of eighteen and within a short time became the pupil of Guisepppe Boghetti, the New York and Philadelphia vocal teacher, who has taught and guided her ever since.

Soloist With Symphony

Her first big appearance was as soloist with the Philharmonic Symphony society of Philadelphia. This was followed by a song recital in Town Hall, New York, where such critics as W. J. Henderson called her voice one of the great contraltos of the day, and a recital at the Philadelphia Academy of Music, when she again scored a success with both public and press. In 1925 Miss Anderson entered the New York Stadium contest and from three hundred singers from all parts of the country, she was chosen to sing with the New York Philharmonic orchestra at the Lewisohn stadium. Since then she has sung throughout the country and is everywhere acclaimed as the possessor of one of the great contralto voices of this generation.
