

Endeavor to Raise Scholarship Fund With Girls' Bazaar

Girls of New Trier High school have been busy this week preparing for the annual bazaar sponsored by the Girls' club which will be held this Saturday, December 8, in the mess hall at the school beginning at 10 o'clock. The proceeds will go to the club for their scholarship fund, and also for furnishing the new girls' club room. Every year the club gives about one thousand dollars for scholarships, and this year the members want to double the amount to meet the added expenses.

The following booths will be found at the bazaar: a French booth, carrying all sorts of dainty gifts—lingerie, pillows, and boudoir accessories; a Christmas tree, or miscellaneous gift booth; the well known "Dutch Oven," where home-baked food will be available; a candy booth; a flower booth; and a cider and doughnut booth. New features this year will be a grab bag and a shooting gallery. There will be a gypsy tea room in the balcony.

A special feature of the bazaar will be the high school dramatic club's presentation of the Alice Gerstenberg play, "The Pot Boiler," a humorous satire on modern drama. The play will be given at 3:30 in the afternoon and at 8:30 in the evening in the high school auditorium. Dancing will follow the play in the evening.
