

Art Exhibition, Sale Continuing for Yule Lane

The Yule Lane Holiday Shops are now in the past and have become part of Winnetka's history. Enthusiasm ran high on Tuesday and Wednesday at Community House and it is reported that a goodly amount, running into the thousands, was raised by the enterprising men and women who have worked all summer for the success of the shops.

One part of the bazaar, however, the Art exhibit and sale is to be carried over until next week. The pictures will be on exhibition for several days but particular attention is called to the fact that today or tomorrow afternoon (Sunday) between 2:30 and 7 these works may be seen and purchased.

An incomplete listing of the artists and their work includes five paintings by Frank Peyraud with two autumn scenes and one of spring; one splendid mountain scene by Rudolph Ingerle, done in the mountains of North Carolina; a large group of fine water colors, some of Winnetka and some of California done by Hugo Von Hofsten; several flower pieces, done by Mrs. Marguerite Calkins Taylor of Wilmette, Mrs. Gordon Wilson of Wilmette, Mrs. John Vennema of Winnetka and Mrs. Elizabeth Boldenweck of Winnetka; two portraits done by Cora Gould Davies; some animal studies by George Nash of Evanston; etchings of Franz Hals and Allen Philbrick, also a landscape by the latter local artist; and two landscapes done by Pauline Graf Davis of Glencoe.

Recent Bazaar Benefits Chicago Junior School

The North End branch, Friends of Chicago Junior school, gave a bazaar yesterday from 10 in the morning until 11 at night, in the Italian lounge of the Sovereign hotel. Baroness Violet Beatrice Wenner, European portrait painter, assisted in the foreign booth, one of the attractions of the bazaar, which, with its novelties, was presided over by Mrs. James Rupert Wolfenden and Mrs. Carey Urban Snyder. Mrs. Andrew E. Buesch of Evanston was in charge of the apron booth and Mrs. James E. Purnell of Evanston, of the white elephant booth. Other articles were available at the pillow booth, the linen booth, the candy, miscellaneous, children's, and the men's haberdashery booths.

Fortune tellers and music provided the entertainment.

The bazaar, which was in charge of Mrs. Harold B. Hinrichs of Chicago, chairman, and Mrs. Lester Singer of Evanston and Mrs. George Karnes of Winnetka, co-chairmen, was held for the benefit of the Chicago Junior school, a home for boys.

Firemen of Two Towns Battle Northfield Blaze

Fire departments of both Wilmette and Winnetka were called out Monday night about 7:20 o'clock to Winnetka avenue and Happ road, Northfield, three miles west of Winnetka, to extinguish a stubborn blaze which started in the basement of a house until recently occupied by William Boesch. The fire worked its way to the roof of the house, and did considerable damage to the interior before it was brought under control. The cause of the fire is unknown. The damage was estimated by Chief Zible of the Wilmette Fire department at about $2,000.

RETURN FROM ENGLAND

Mrs. Charles Requa and her daughter, Mrs. Stewart Johnson, of 678 Sheridan road, have returned after spending six weeks in England. They stopped for several days in New York and Mrs. Johnson also visited in Washington, D. C., before returning to Winnetka the day before Thanksgiving. Mrs. Johnson is planning to leave shortly after the holidays with her small daughter, Tita, to spend the winter in Egypt.
