

Robert Kingery to Speak Before Commercial Body

Robert Kingery, 809 Pine street, Winnetka, secretary of the Chicago Regional Planning commission, will address the Winnetka Chamber of Commerce next Monday evening on general plans for the Chicago area development, which includes the proposed new highways in and west of Winnetka.

Mr. Kingery's talk will follow the regular monthly dinner given by the Chamber, at Community House. The dinner will be served at 7 o'clock. A large attendance of members is anticipated at this meeting, since Mr. Kingery's subject is one in which everyone is vitally interested.

Mr. and Mrs. F. W. Evangers of 566 Drexel avenue announce the birth of a baby daughter on November 19. The baby has been named Jean Steffens Evangers, the middle name being in honor of the child's grandparents, the Albert Steffens, with whom the Evangers are staying at present.

TO SPEND CHRISTMAS AWAY

Mrs. Dudley Bradstreet of 772 Walden road left last Monday for Austin and San Antonio, Texas, to be with her family for Christmas. Mr. Bradstreet will follow later, both to return by way of Havana, Cuba and New Orleans, arriving in Winnetka about January 10.

Is Host to Church Choir at Dinner and Club Concert

By Critic

Thomas Ratcliffe, 804 Lincoln avenue, entertained the entire choir of the Winnetka Congregational church Tuesday evening at dinner at the Hamilton club, taking his guests later in the evening to the annual concert given by the club chorus of 150 voices.

The voices, highly trained, produced a rich, harmonic texture of ever-changing depth and color. The volume of the voice is so great that only perfect drill in rhythm prevents it from becoming a mere roar. Years of careful training have made of this club's singing, a thing to be anticipated and then remembered with joy.

The final number, an old Scotch ballad, "The Hundred Pipes," called up the picture of a column of tartan clad Highlanders filing to battle through a foggy pass, shouting out the battle song as they marched. They sang magnificently.

Harry Walsh is conductor and is also conductor and leader of the Winnetka church choir and quartet.

A Gift for Mother Fifty-two Holidays

The weekly story in many homes is: the washing must be done—the family must have clean clothes, and Mother must sacrifice 52 precious days a year in doing or supervising the work.

If this story is true of your home, change it—insist that the family laundry be sent to us each week. Washday will be over before it has begun—Mother's only task will be to bundle the clothes together and give them to the Washington Laundry man. The day will become a holiday—52 times a year for pleasanter duties.

This is a gift your wife will appreciate. Expensive? No. The family bundle will be returned each week at a figure lower than it could be done for at home.

Are You Buying the Toys You Like— or the ones your children need?

Do you KNOW what they need?

Is every dollar you are spending for toys for a child, doing the work it should be doing?

There should be scientific judgment involved in the buying of toys, as in all other branches of child-training.

To that end we have instituted here a new service, giving you the help of

A Toy Consultant

who will help you decide, expertly and understandingly, what sort of toys to buy for the child you are buying them for.
