Wabash First Foe for Northwestern Basketball Squad

The Little Giants of Wabash college, one of the strong basketball teams turned out in the Hoosier state each year, will provide the opposition to Northwestern's quintet in the opening game of the season in Evanston Saturday December 8.

Selection of Wabash for the opening engagement will provide a fine test for Coach Lonberg's five which faces one of the strongest cage schedules ever taken on by a university team. The Little Giants have a strong nucleus from last year's team back again and can be counted on to put up a clever fight.

Among the visitors will be several capable players who will bear close watching during the evening. They include Groves, center; Brooks, guard, and Venir, forward. These three lads worked considerable havoc among rival teams all last year and are reported to be going stronger than ever this season.

Just who Coach Lonberg will elect

"What Delicious Food!"

The secret back of the delicious dishes served at the Plaza is simply this: the painstaking care we use in selecting and preparing our food.

People tell us that nowhere can they find food more temptingly tasty than what is served here.

Why not come to the Plaza tomorrow—for Sunday dinner? A special menu has been prepared, bulging over with delicacies you'll like.

to start proceedings Saturday is somewhat uncertain. However, Capt. Hal Gleichmann, forward, Rut Walter, center; and Frank Marshall, guard, all regulars of last year's team, are quite sure to be in the lineup at the start.

The other two positions are still doubtful. Anyone of a half dozen other forward candidates may get the call. It is likely that Johnny Haas will start while John Whelan, Bert Riel, Bill Portmess, Cort Hodgdon, Tom Warne and Will Lewis may see action during the game.

Center candidates are not so plentiful. Rut Walter, star of last year's team, has the call on the job. Russell Bergherm and Harold Schultz, both of last year's team, are also plugging for the position. The task of finding a back guard is a problem. The strongest candidates for this job at present are Merrill Mundy and "Red" Woodworth. The latter is a sophomore who shows promise.

TO HEAR HELEN BENNETT

Miss Helen Bennett, originator and manager of the Woman's World's Fair, will speak at the monthly luncheon of the Alumnae association of the Gamma Phi Beta sorority at Northwestern university Saturday, December 8, at the Palmer House, at 1 o'clock.

Mrs. Ernest Bachaus of Evanston, national grand president of the sorority, will be honorary guest.

Miss Lillian Wadworth and Mrs. Stuart K. Fox of Chicago and Miss Mildred Golden and Mrs. Richard Pace of Evanston are in charge of arrangements.

Francis A. Emmons, who is attending Randolph-Macon Military academy in Virginia, where he is a captain, will arrive on December 20, to spend the holidays with his parents in their new home at 542 Meadow road.

of all ways to cleanse Eyes. Needs no insanitary Eye cup

Eye cups gather dust and germs; often they transmit infection. No wonder millions are forsaking them for the more hygienic and more convenient Murine method of cleansing eyes.

Murine is applied with its combination eye dropper and bottle stopper. A few drops are sufficient to cleanse your eyes and make them clear and bright. Murine contains no belladonna or other harmful ingredients. Try it!
