Longmeadow Hunt Season Closes in Whirl of Activity

The Longmeadow hunting season of 1928 is gone, leaving memories of several fox-hunts, and many long, hard drag-hunts, which taxed hounds, horses, and riders to their utmost. But, although the endurance of horses and the skill of the riders were tested severely in many of the forty-five runs held this season, the year's record is creditable to a high degree to both.

The Longmeadow Hunt has the simplest of hunt organizations, namely, the hunt is owned by the master and a few immediate friends and is supported entirely by voluntary subscriptions. All are welcome to ride and the field of riders is very democratic. Many farmers take a keen interest in the sport.

Among north shore folk who ride regularly to hounds in the season or are interested in the sport as patrons or otherwise are the following:

Martin Lindsay, Col. Albert E. Peirce, Ernest S. Ballard, Donald F. McPherson, Mrs. Ernest S. Ballard, H. C. Alley, Peirce C. Ward, William G. Woolfolk, Ernest H. Hicks, Mrs. Donald F. McPherson, Francis P. Butler, Mrs. Francis P. Butler, Henry Gardner, Arthur M. Cox, Walter F. Wallace, Harry E. Miller, Marshall Forrest, Mrs. W. A. Reid, Norman W. Harris, Mrs. Norman W. Harris, Victor Elting, Dudley Cates, Miss Inez McKeown, Thomas J. McKearnan, Judge Clarence N. Goodwin, Godfrey H. Atkin, Mrs. William P. Sidley, H. A. deWindt, Mrs. Robert Laird, Harold Zeiss, Lawrence Houghteling, John P. Hooker, Mrs. Arthur Cable, Ogden West, and Mrs. C. Colton Daughaday, Major R. B. Norheimer.

C. Colton Daughaday is M. F. H., John Hartnett, acting Huntsman, Tony Widmer, 1st Whip, and Crawford Duke, Kennelman.

The plans for 1929 include spring hunting when weather permits, instruction at Longmeadow Hunt club in jumping and in the customs and etiquette of the hunting field, and regular runs throughout the late summer and fall season. Hunting in Winnetka was inaugurated in 1923, and since then has gained steadily in popularity among those local sportsmen and sportswomen who ride.

Public Utility Regulation to Be Discussed at Forum

The Kenilworth League of Women Voters announces through its columns the meeting offered by the Forum of the League of Women Voters on Saturday, December 8, in the Florentine room of the Congress hotel, at 2 o'clock. The meeting is to be held to ascertain the real facts about "Muscle Shoals," "Boulder Dam," "Electric Power," "The Government in Business," and Canada's municipality owned hydro-project.

Among the speakers are Donald Richberg, general counsel, National Conference on Valuation of Railroads, who will speak on, "The Importance of Public Utility Regulation to the Citizen," W. S. Vivian, Director of Public Relations, Midwest Utilities company, Chicago, "The Public's Utility's Stake in Electric Power," and Alvin Reis, member of Wisconsin's Interim Commission on Ware Water Power, who will discuss, "The People's Stake in Electric Power."

An informal reception will precede the meeting from 1:30 to 2:00 o'clock.

The Norman MacLeish family recently moved to Winnetka from Philadelphia, and have taken up residence at 608 Elm street. Mr. MacLeish is the son of Mrs. Andrew MacLeish of Glencoe.

Where working together is everything

It is the aim of the Bell System that anyone anywhere in the country can pick up a telephone and talk to anyone anywhere else clearly and without delay. That is the meaning of universal service. To provide it, the means of telephoning must be uniformly good. This company, for example, has full access to all the improvements and methods that are continually being made.

There are 5000 workers on the Bell staffs whose sole occupation is to develop constantly improving methods and equipment for the 350,000 employees of the Bell System to use in serving the public. The results of the efforts are evident, not only in the extension of telephone service across the Atlantic, but in the constantly improving local and long distance service at home.

The Bell System accepts its responsibility for a nation-wide telephone service as a public trust.
