

Elect R. W. Hayden 1929 President of Northwestern Links

Ralph W. Hayden of 2327 McDaniel avenue, Evanston, is the new president of the Northwestern Golf club elected at the annual fall banquet Thursday at the North Shore hotel. He succeeds Harry Bachman of Wilmette who has been associated with the course ever since its start, when he was the original architect.

The other new officers are: Vice President M. L. Lane of Rogers Park, who has been chairman of the sports and pastimes committee during the past year; secretary—George M. Hubbard of Evanston who was reelected, and treasurer, Harry Bachman of Wilmette. These will compose the board of directors with the chairman of the various committees who will be appointed by the president in the next few weeks.

Trophies to the winners of the major events of the past season were presented at the banquet by Mr. Bachman. Joseph I. Morrison was given the club championship which he will hold for a year and a gold medal watch fob. The runner-up for the championship, J. P. Strasser, was presented with a silver watch fob.

The cup for the women's championship went to Mrs. Josephine Krudwig, and Herbert J. Frank received the president's trophy, a big cup to hold for the year and also a permanent trophy. Mr. Quick, the runnerup, was given a merchandise certificate. M. F. Lane was the winner of a special trophy given by Commissioner Oscar Smith of Wilmette.

Further development of the Northwestern course, which has land enough to offer varied possibilities, is expected for next season and the few years to come. The course has been considered as a site for the national public links tournament, and a possibility that it may be awarded that event in 1930 is reported by Mr. Bachman. What the county proposes to do to develop the course will be further told in the spring.

More club memberships will be accepted next season since action has been taken not to close the lists at 75 as in the past year, but to make the limit 100.

NEW COUNCIL OFFICE

The office of the North Shore scout council will move within the next couple of weeks to a larger office on the third floor of the new addition to the Masonic temple. The entrance is at 21 N. Sheridan road, Highland Park. One feature of the new office will be additional space for the display of Scouting ideas.

Democracy Failure? Dr. Durant Replies in the Affirmative

BY P. B. K.

Will Durant, author of one of the "best sellers," The Story of Philosophy, gave an exceedingly interesting address, Friday evening, December 7, on a subject of vital importance to north shore citizens, Is Democracy a Failure? His answer was a decided Yes. He spoke under auspices of the Winnetka League of Women Voters.

Dr. Durant's conclusion was, however, not the result of indigestion nor of a gloomy outlook on life in the United States but on the contrary the result of the accumulating of a multitude of facts, a painstaking examination of these same facts, and finally, a cautious generalizing.

Dr. Durant gave an address that was in the true sense of the words both interesting and edifying. He called attention to the nature of the American republic years ago when there was little division of labor, when each family was almost entirely independent a thing as a real individual. He then went on to point out that because of increase in population and increase in national territory, direct participation in government was no longer possible. Political machines had taken the place of individual American citizen, and state and municipal elections had for the most part become corrupt.

He saw no prospect of improvement unless office holders were given as thorough an education in their chosen vocations as doctors were given in theirs. He declared that the great American fallacy lay in the belief of the average citizen that he was fit to hold any administrative position to which he might be elected. In closing, Dr. Durant again emphasized his conviction that the only way to save democracy was by thorough education of our legislators and executives.

Mrs. Hugh Foresman, 515 Essex road, Kenilworth entertained her bridge club at luncheon last Wednesday.

Delicious— Always

CHICKEN dinners used to be largely dependent on luck. One never was certain whether a chicken was good, bad or indifferent until it reached the table. Often what was otherwise a fine dinner has been ruined when it developed that the chicken was tough, or the flavor was not what it should be.

FORD SEDALIA CHICKENS have now removed that element of chance. Buttermilk-feeding to produce tenderness and flavor, immediate full-dressing and hard-chilling to preserve that tenderness and flavor—these Ford Sedalia features have brought to North Shore housewives chicken that is uniformly fine, that can be depended upon always.
