

WILL GIVE 300 DOLLS

Northwestern Coeds Make Ready for Parties for Settlement Children

The 300 dolls that the girls of Northwestern university have dressed for the children of Northwestern University settlement in Chicago, and the 3,000 stockings that they have made and filled with candy for the same Santa Claus project, will be one of the important parts of the Christmas celebrations there.

There will be one of these Christmas parties every evening of the holidays proper, to include all the groups who frequent the settlement and participate in its colorful and interesting program. As preliminary to the parties, Miss Harriet E. Vittum, head resident there, for many years outstanding in civic and social fields of Chicago and the country in general, will come to Evanston to speak to members of the University circle. She will speak tomorrow afternoon at 2:30 at Harris hall.

The members of the circle meet to sew one day each month for the settlement, and there are 40 girls from the university regularly conducting classes there each week. The circle donates the candy which fills the Christmas stockings made by the university girls under direction of the settlement committee of the campus Y. W. C. A.

Honor New Trier Grad as Bradley Grid Star

A former New Trier High school athlete Lester Galitz, is now starring at Bradley Tech, Peoria. He was awarded the Bradley "B" for his services on the eleven. In the first and final games of the season, "Les" starred for the Tech, but the rest of the season he was on the bench with a twisted ankle. Critics gave him honorable mention on the "Little 19" all-star team, and next season he should gain a place on the first all-conference eleven. At present he has his thoughts on the hardwood and hopes to win his second letter as a member of the quintet.

Hikers Vie for Choice Position on Their Trips

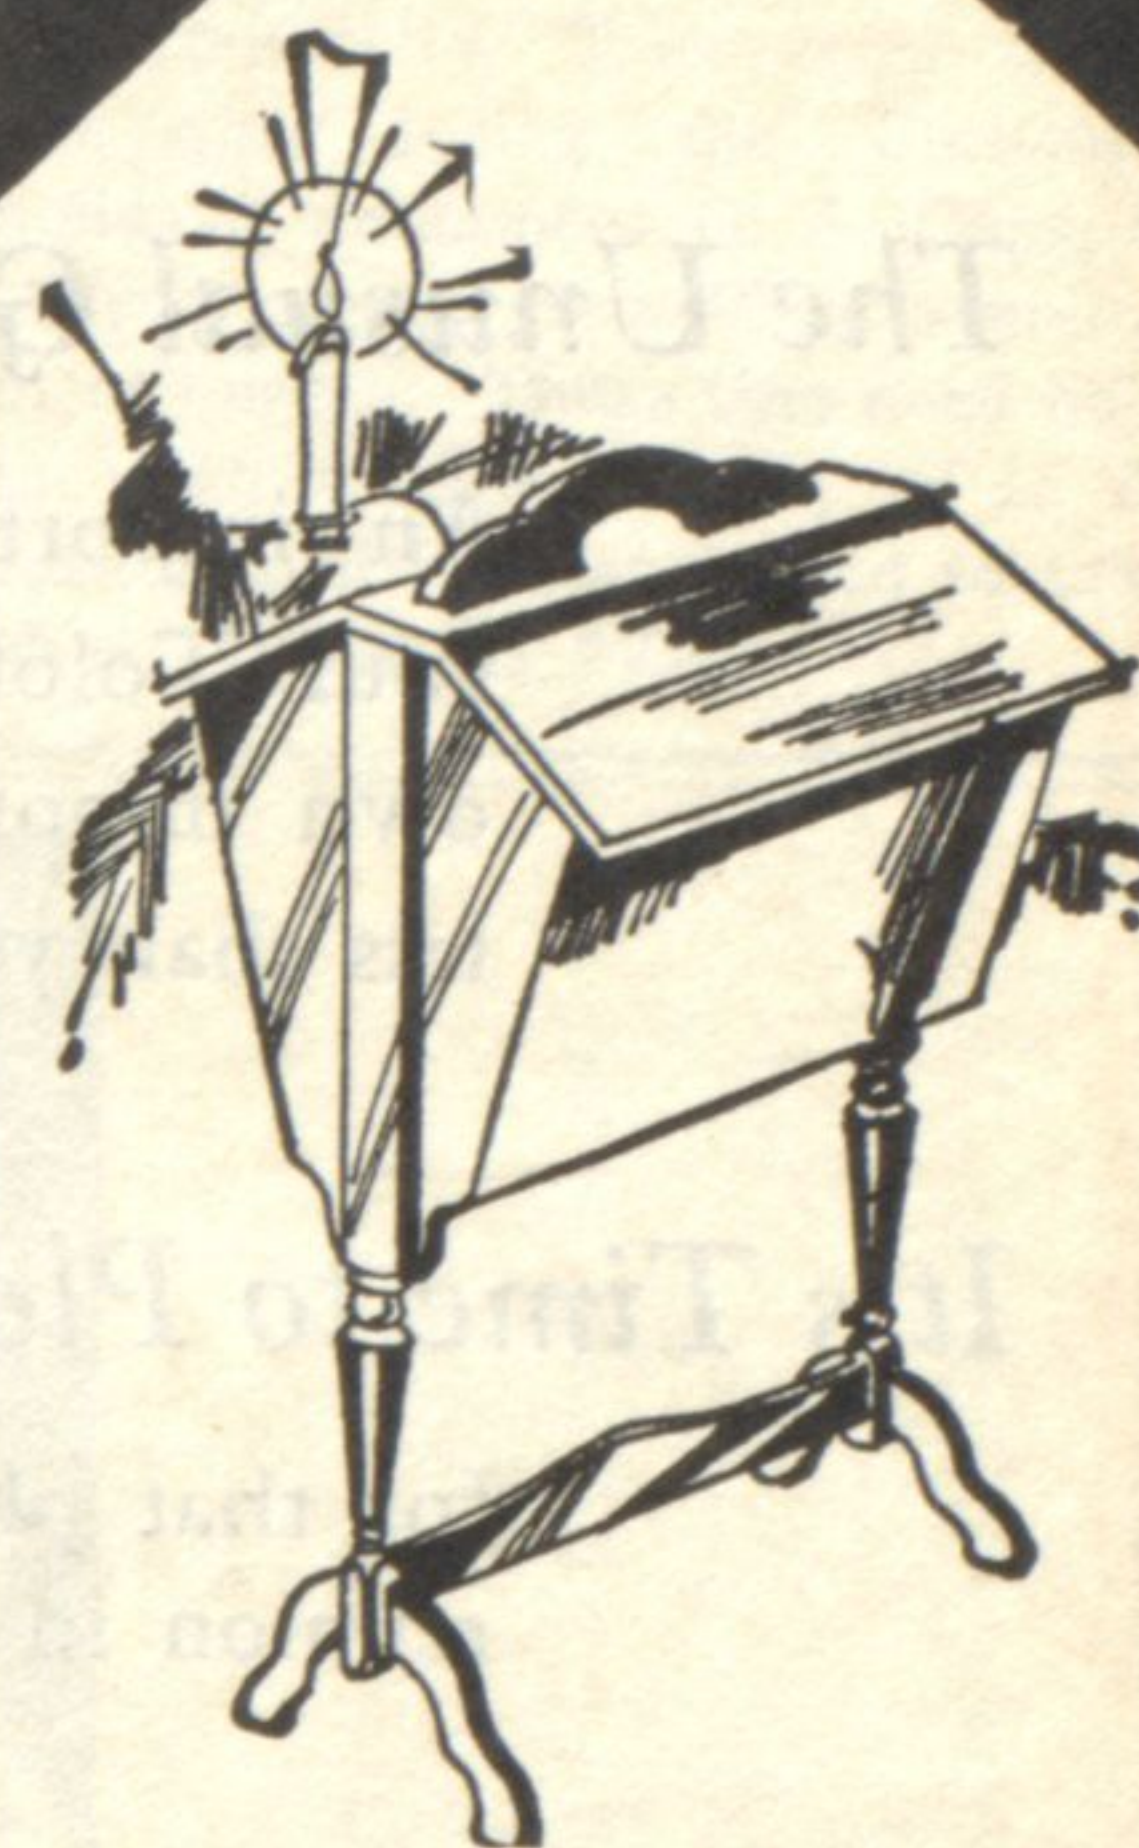

The various Junior Hikers clubs in Kenilworth, with ten members each, will hereafter be rated according to the percentage of club members present at the most recent hike, and when the next hike is taken the club which ranks first will be given a place nearest the hike leader, Robert W. Townley, athletic director at the Joseph Sears school. On the last hike Freddie Workman's Sea Gulls, with nine out of ten members present, ranked first, while Tom Cruttendon's Quails were second with seven members present. Carleton Ross' Cardinals and Charles Bemis' Mallards tied for third place, each club having six members present.

Among the Winnetka girls arriving home from Dobbs Ferry next Friday to spend the holidays with their parents are Miss Emma Woolfolk, Miss Jean Armstrong, Miss Leila Withers, Miss Adelaide Atkin, and Miss Marian Calkins.

Miss Louise Fentress, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Fentress, 1127 Sheridan road, will return from Smith college next Wednesday. She will make her debut on Christmas day and participate in many other events during the holidays.

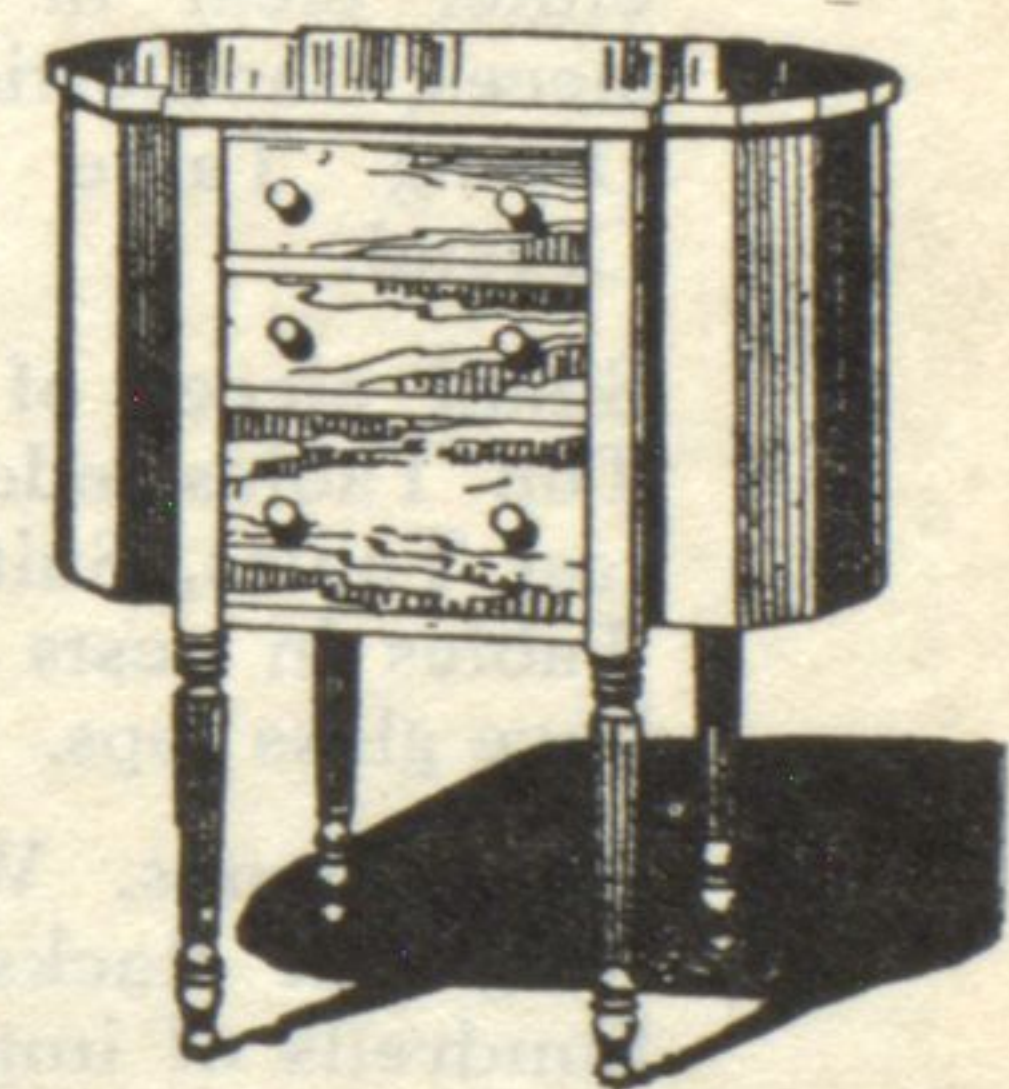

Barbara Barrett and Lois Truesdale return to Winnetka today from Connecticut college to spend the holidays with their parents.
