43 Kenilworth Boy Scouts

Life Photo
Forty-three Kenilworth Boy Scouts are shown here with their leader, Robert W. Townley, athletic director at the Joseph Sears school. Mr. Townley is in charge of an extensive Scout program in Kenilworth, which includes frequent hikes and athletic activities of various kinds.

Don't Blame the Furnace

Look First

to your Walls!

The finest heating plant in the world won't keep you warm if your walls are mere hollow drafty shells. Let us pour your walls full of insulation and make them thick barriers against cold.

KALKITE INSULATION

is different from all other types of insulation you have known. It is a light, fibrous fire-proof material and is poured with a hose into the hollow spaces between the inner walls and the outer sheathing, stucco or brick work of your home—also above the ceilings.

Applied Without Muss

No tearing away of walls, no muss, no fuss. You don't even have to sweep up after the installation has been made.

Easy Terms

Kalkite Insulation may be purchased on easy time payment basis and quickly pays for itself in fuel saved. Mail coupon for complete facts and free estimate of fuel savings, or telephone State 5079.

Plan Hobby Exhibition by Junior Hiking Group

The Junior Hikers of Kenilworth, organization of boys under Scout age, are planning a hobby show to be held about the middle of February after the new gymnasium at the Joseph Sears school is completed. Each Junior Hikers club will have a booth, in which the hobbies of various club members will be represented. There will also be stunts and demonstrations for the parents, according to the preliminary plans.

Robert W. Townley, athletic director at the Joseph Sears school reports that the home meetings for the boys are working out successfully. All of the clubs hold meetings at least once a week under the direction of the club leader, and one of the clubs has held a skating party.
