Health Santa Gives Stronger Hearts to Illinois Children

A Santa Claus quietly building stronger and better hearts in the bosoms of the youth in Illinois was pictured this week by Dr. Isaac D. Rawlings, state health director, who pointed out in a yuletide interview that the percentage of deaths from heart disease among persons less than thirty has dropped 40 per cent since 1918, while the number of fatalities from that cause among all ages went up 52 per cent. Mortality from heart disease in general has increased very markedly, the rate per 100,000 having risen from 150 in 1918 to 192 in 1927, but the increase has all occurred in the upper age strata.

"In 1918 over ten per cent of all mortality from heart disease occurred among persons less than forty" Dr. Rawlings said. "Last year only six and a fraction per cent of all deaths from heart disease were among those less than thirty. Out of 10,402 deaths charged against heart disease in 1918, there were 1,131 among those less than thirty. Last year there were 15,891 deaths from heart disease and 1,054 were among persons under thirty. During the ten years the general population increased by nearly a million.

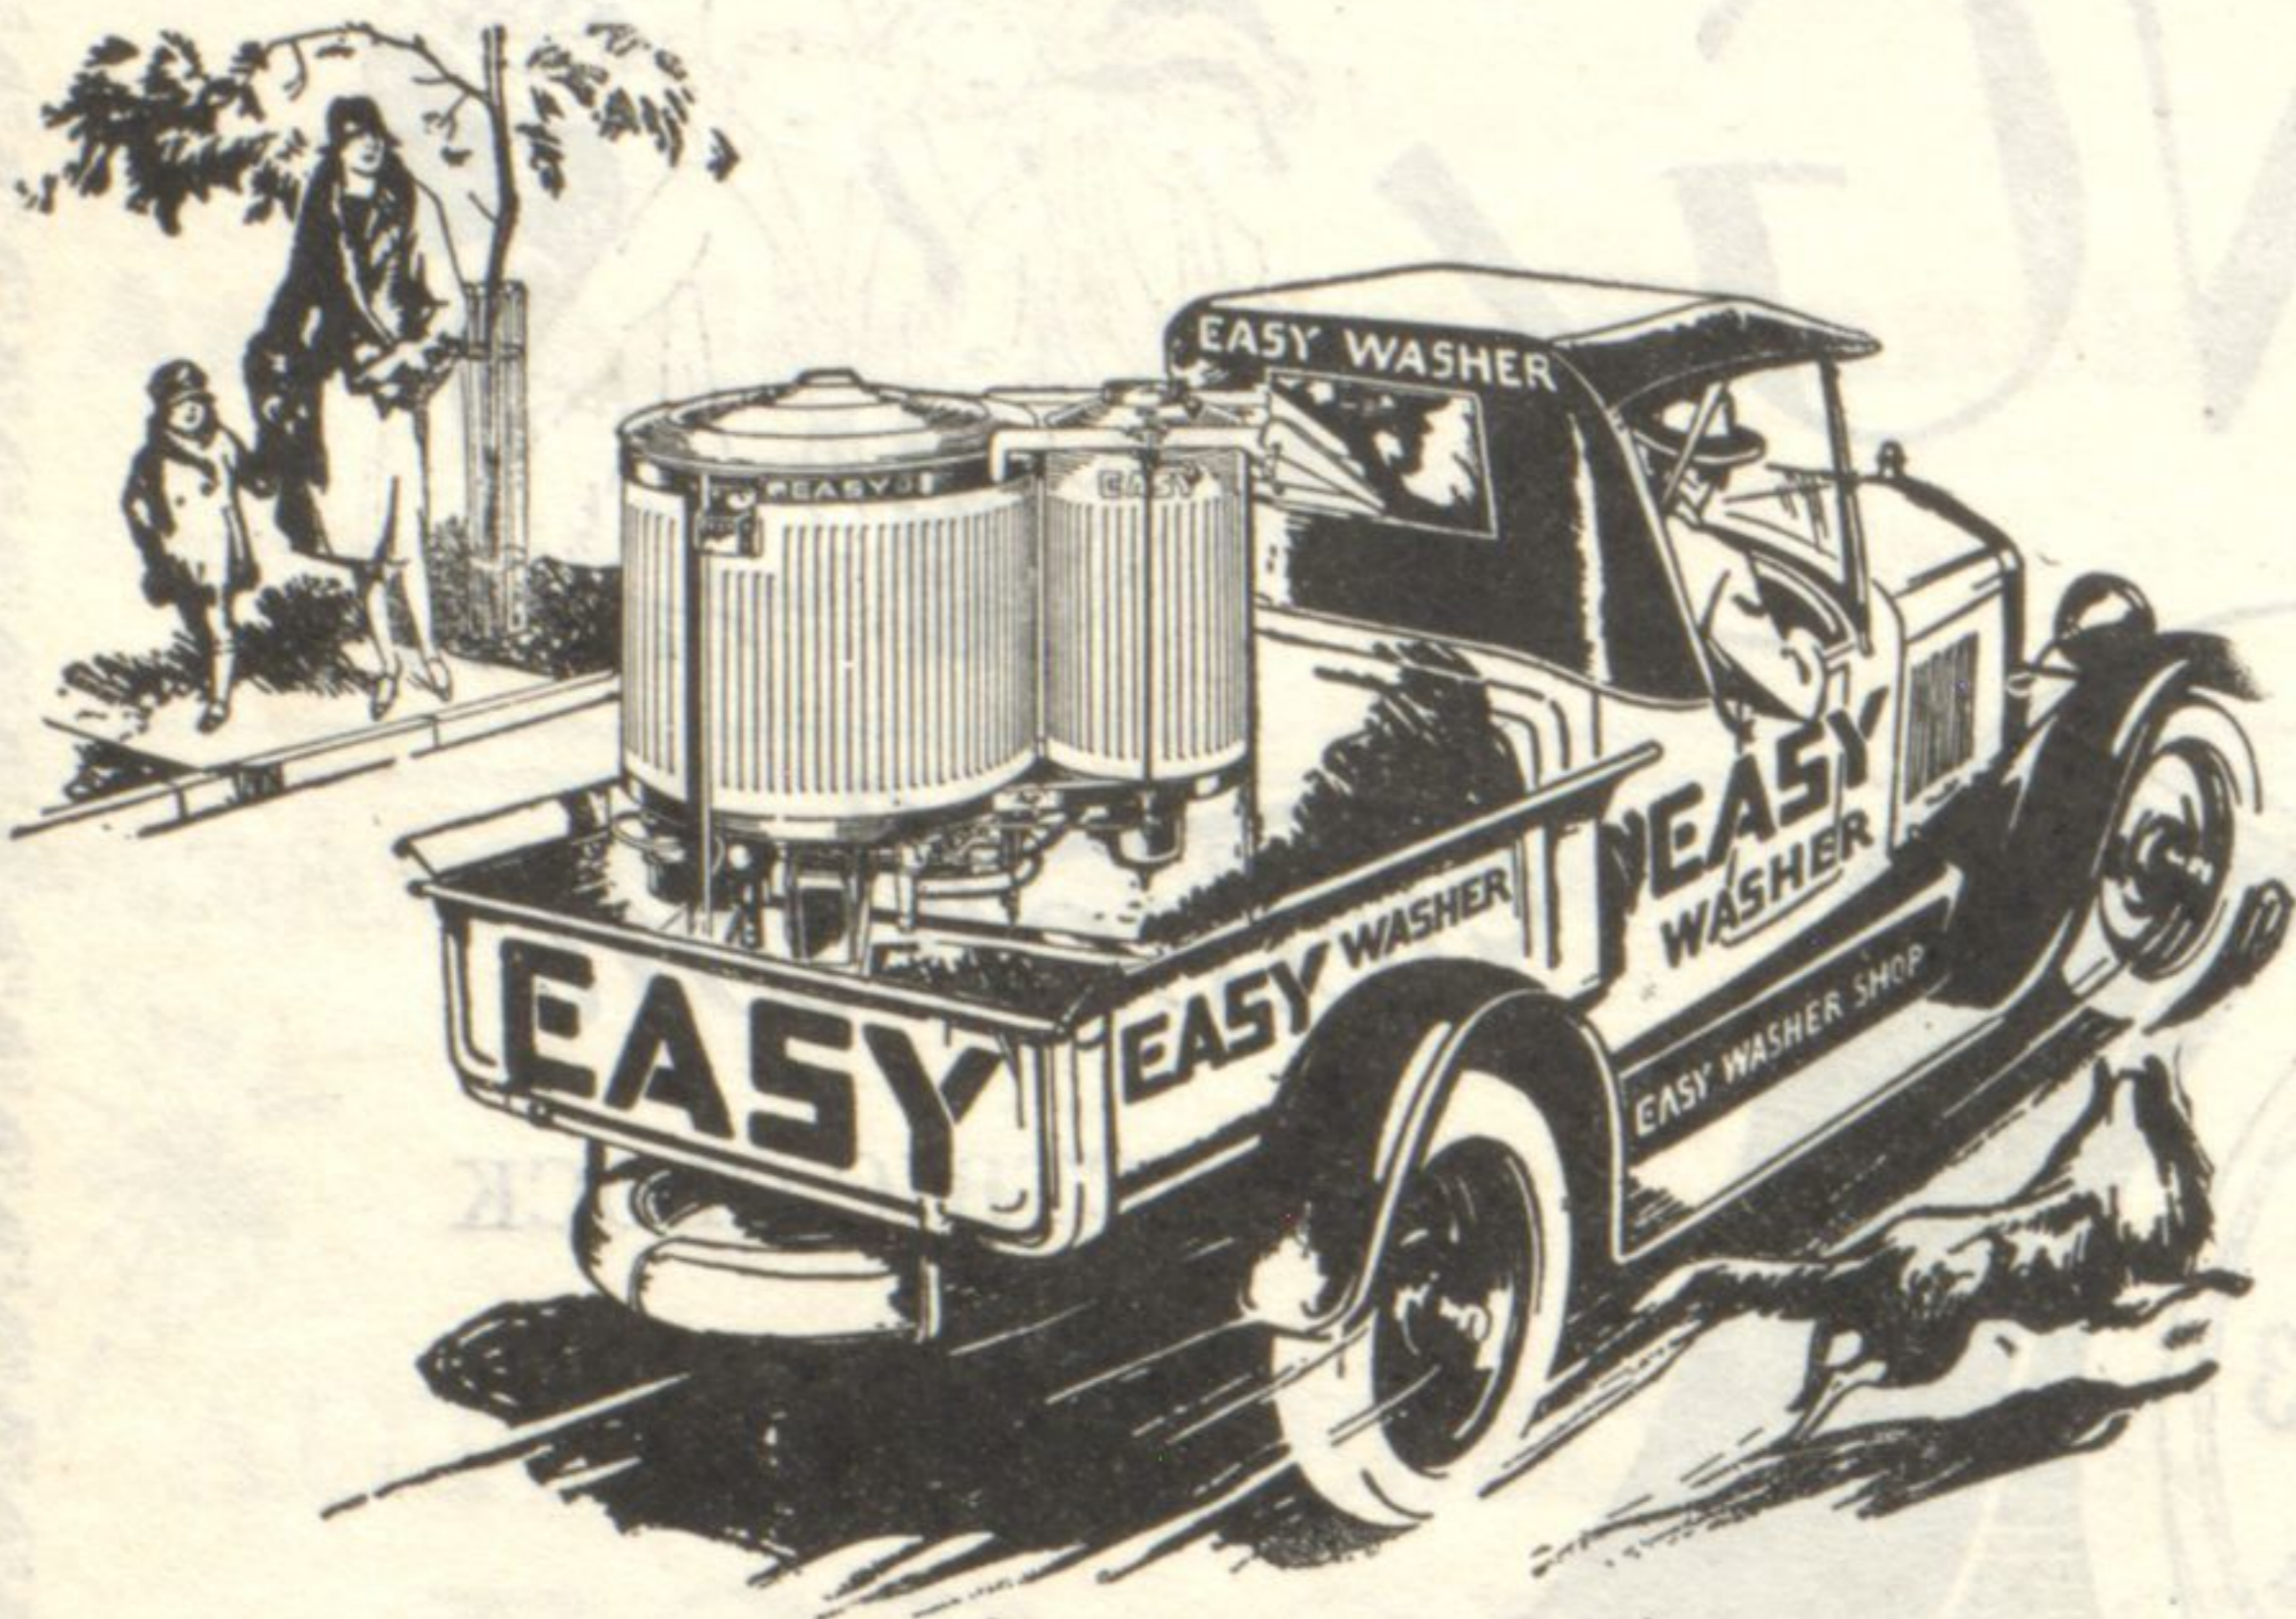

"These statistics are most illuminating. Preventive medicine is the Santa Claus who is bringing better hearts to our boys and girls by keeping down infectious diseases. Heart trouble in persons less than forty is usually the after effects of diseased tonsils, rheumatic fever, infected teeth, scarlet fever, diphtheria or some other preventable disorder.

"Too many folks are still succumbing to heart disease at ages far too young. To die young from heart disease is really an accident. Keeping contagion out of the schools, stimulating the correction of physical defects in children and enforcing quarantine regulations are just as much accident preventive services as traffic regulations on the streets and highways.

"Having a heart is coming to have a real meaning in Illinois."

Mr. and Mrs. W. J. McDowell and their family, who came to Wilmette sixteen years ago, are moving from their apartment in the Linden Crest to their new home at 709 McLean avenue, Kenilworth.

Some woman is happier— Why not you?

SOME woman has a New Easy Washer. Her washdays will be forever made lighter,—she will stay younger; look fresher; save time, money and clothes because of the New Easy that washes and damp-dries at the same time.

No longer will she have to handle wet clothes, piece by piece. Just move a lever and in a jiffy the clothes are so dry they need only a few minutes in the sun.

Blankets, bath towels and soft woollens come out of the Easy's dryer with a soft fluffiness that is delightful. There are no deep wrinkles to iron out or broken buttons to replace.

No ugly boilers are necessary in the laundry, for beneath the Easy's tub is a special gas heater that keeps the water at an even temperature through the longest washing and can be used to sterilize white pieces right in the washer.

You Can be the Next Woman to Have a New Easy!

Don't wait until all your neighbors have this modern miracle worker. You can see its wonders now, without waiting a day longer. It won't cost you one penny, for all you have to do is call us, and on your regular washday the New Easy will be on the job, ready to do a whole week's washing for you. Call us today!
