

Purple Cage Team Looms as Finest in Big Ten Circle

Victorious in its three pre-holiday games, Northwestern's basketball team will take a much-needed rest until after Christmas when the players will report to get in readiness for the Penn State game at Patten gymnasium December 31.

Three stiff games with Wabash, Pittsburgh and Notre Dame, all of which were won by the Purple, has given Coach Lonborg a good line on the candidates he will have available for the important conference games yet to come.

Capt. Hal Gleichmann, forward, Rut Walter, center, and Frank Marshall, guard, all three members of last year's team, have demonstrated that they have lost none of their old effectiveness. This trio makes a strong nucleus to work in two new members who will take the place left vacant by the graduation of Waldo Fisher and Luke Johnsos.

Bert Riel, sophomore, and Merrill Munday, member of last year's team, have taken over the forward and guard jobs respectively and are doing a nice job. However, they are being closely pushed by several promising men including Johnny Haas, forward, Russell Bergherm and Harold Schultz, guards. The latter two played bang up games in the Notre Dame fray when they worked in the places of Hal Gleichmann and Merrill Mundy, both of whom were ill with the flu.

N. U. Athletic Leaders Will Attend Conference

K. L. "Tug" Wilson, athletic director, and Prof. O. F. Long, chairman of the faculty committee on athletics, will represent Northwestern at the meeting of the National association of athletic directors and football coaches to be held at New Orleans December 27 and 28. Roy "Pat" Hanley, first assistant football coach, will represent Head Coach Dick Hanley at the meetings. Coach Hanley will be unable to attend since he has taken the all-eastern football team to San Francisco for the East-West charity game. Following the sessions at New Orleans, Mr. Wilson and Mrs. Wilson will accompany the Knute Rockne tour to Cuba.

Offers Medals to Victors in Basketball Tournament

The Panthers club of Winnetka is voicing thanks to "Abe" Fell, of Fell's Clothiers, for his cooperation in aiding to promote a basketball tournament now being held at the Community House gym. It was through Mr. Fell's kindness that the Panthers were able to stage such an event. No sooner had he heard of the Panthers planning such a thing than he promised to donate medals for each boy playing on the winning team. Altogether there are four teams in the tournament. The team that comes out on top in this tournament will be decorated with the Fell medals emblematic of victory.

Miss Janet Olmsted arrived Wednesday to spend her Christmas vacation with her uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. Semour H. Olmsted, 783 Foxdale avenue. Miss Olmsted is taking a post graduate course at Smith.
