PRODUCTION FOR 1928 ESTABLISHES A RECORD

Big Output in November Indicates New Mark Will Be Set in the Motor Industry

In spite of predictions that 1928 would not establish a new production record, a big November indicates that a new mark will be set. Production of passenger cars during eleven months of this year amounted to 3,621,469, as against 2,840,518 in the same period of last year, and 2,946,601 for the whole of 1927, the automotive division of the Department of Commerce announced today.

The output of passenger cars in November, based on factory sales, was approximately 100 per cent larger than in the same month of last year.

Truck production also was far in excess of January-November period of last year, the total for the eleven months of this year being 502,756, as against 454,725 for the whole of 1927.

The gain in total passenger car and truck production in the first eleven months of 1928 over the corresponding period of 1927 was 856,470, or 26 per cent.

The passenger car output over this period increased 780,951, or 27 per cent, and the truck output gained 75,519, or 115 per cent.
