Reviews At the North

Dolores del Rio in "Revenge" Comes to Norshore Saturday

After a week's vacation Al Kvale will be back at the Norshore theater beginning this Saturday to take charge of his Jazz Collegians. Al has prepared a huge Christmas frolic, entitled "The Doll Shop." It is going to be a colorful and extraordinary stage show, according to word received this week from the north side theater.

Dolores del Rio in "Revenge" will be on the Norshore screen. Miss del Rio gives a vivid performance as the fiery, passionate, ecstatic Rascha, who is the bear taming daughter of a bear tamer. She despises all things that are tame and yearns for a man to conquer her own wild self. The men she knows who adore and serve her win only her contempt.

The Hero of the picture is Jorga, who rides up on a white horse and fulfills her wish. LeRoy Mason plays this part.

Gypsy camp fires flare in "Revenge." Gypsy dances, gypsy rites, gypsy loves, hates, costumes and customs fill the film with color and movement. They are thrown against a background of glorious mountain scenery. (The picture is staged in the Carpathian mountains, the boundary line between Hungary and Roumania.)

The part of the untamed gypsy girl in this Konrad Bercovici story is well suited to Miss Del Rio. She makes of Rascha a vivid, flaming, picturesque creature of primitive loves and hates. Her gypsy dances are amazingly well done.

Bessie Love, star of "Sally of the Scandals" and various other pictures, has signed a long term contract with Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer, says a Hollywood report.

VARSITY OFFERINGS

"Show Folks" Now Showing—"The Home Towners," All-Talking Comedy Coming Monday for Three Days

"Show Folks," another yarn about the struggles of theatrical people, is now showing at the Varsity theater in Evanston. Its run will continue through this Saturday, December 29. Those who go to see the picture will find the personality kid, Eddie Quillan, amusing. Lina Basquette takes a large share of the honors in this piece. Hers is the role of partner to the vaudeville hooper who is Mr. Quillan. Robert Armstrong has an appealing part, and Bessie Barriscale puts over some good scenes. "Show Folks" is a good picture.

"A triumph of both acting and sound" was one leading Chicago critics' comment on "The Home Towners," to be shown at the Varsity next Monday, Tuesday, and Wednesday, December 31, January 1 and 2. A small cast of characters, a good basic situation, worked into a neat plot, amusing, pointed speeches—these are the materials which go into "The Home Towners" and make of it a bright and unusual entertainment.

Prize All-Talking Film

"The Home Towners" is one of the first stage plays to come to the screen with most of its lines intact. The conversation in this George M. Cohan play is much better than the bits of dialog which have been inserted into most of the so-called talking pictures merely to give the players something to say in some of the scenes. In this the speech is as important as the action, both in developing the plot and portraying the characters.

Charles Rogers will have the leading male role in "Close Harmony," being screened by Paramount from the story by Elsie Janis. It is a tale of the stage based on experiences recalled by Miss Janis.

All characters will talk in "The Canary Murder Case" now being filmed by Paramount. Louise Brooks, James Hall, Jean Arthur, and William Powell are prominent in the cast.
