

YESSIR, JOHNNY AGAIN ATTENDS TO THE EATS

The name Pappajohn is ever suggestive of good things to eat. Applying a bit of logic, we arrive at the conclusion that, since there will be things to eat at the New Trier Day picnic, it naturally follows they will be good, wholesome and delicious.

John Pappajohn

for Johnny Pappajohn is chairman of the Refreshments committee.

"Johnny", as he is familiarly known to practically every resident of the north shore, has been chairman of the Refreshments committee at other New Trier Day celebrations, and he is thoroughly conversant with the discriminating tastes of the north shore public.

On days other than the annual township holiday, Pappajohn conducts the confectionery emporiums flanking the Village theatre at Wilmette. He was formerly proprietor of the Indian Hill Inn, but that was in the dim, dim past.

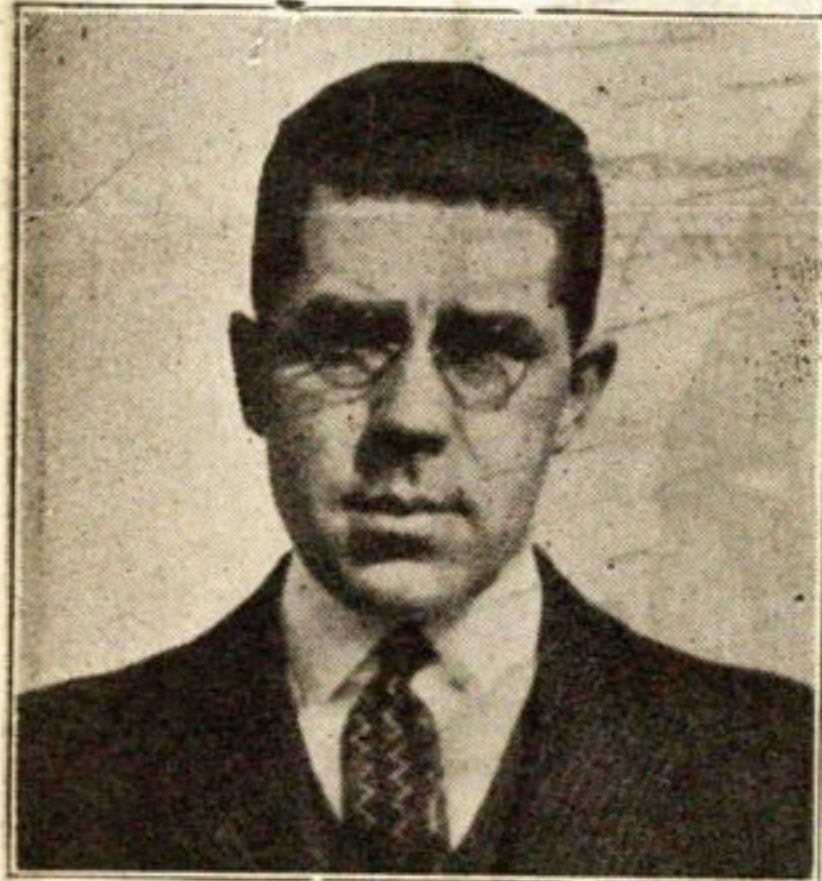

In any event, one need experience no anxiety on the "eats" question. There will be good food and plenty of it.

"Johnny" says he expects to have his son on the Refreshments committee within a few years.

Is it possible you haven't heard? Why, he's almost a year old now.

Pays the Bills

Dan G. Stiles, vice president and general manager of the Wilmette State bank, is the man who must "pay the bills" attendant upon New Trier Day. It is his job to see that matters monetary are taken care of in the accustomed and prescribed manner. That he is qualified to handle his important job, goes without question.

Mr. Stiles has been actively affiliated with the New Trier Commercial association since his coming to Wilmette several years ago, and is working diligently with the scores of other business men in the determination to make this year's holiday event the biggest New Trier Day in history.

Marshal Wolff Named "Big Boss" of Parade

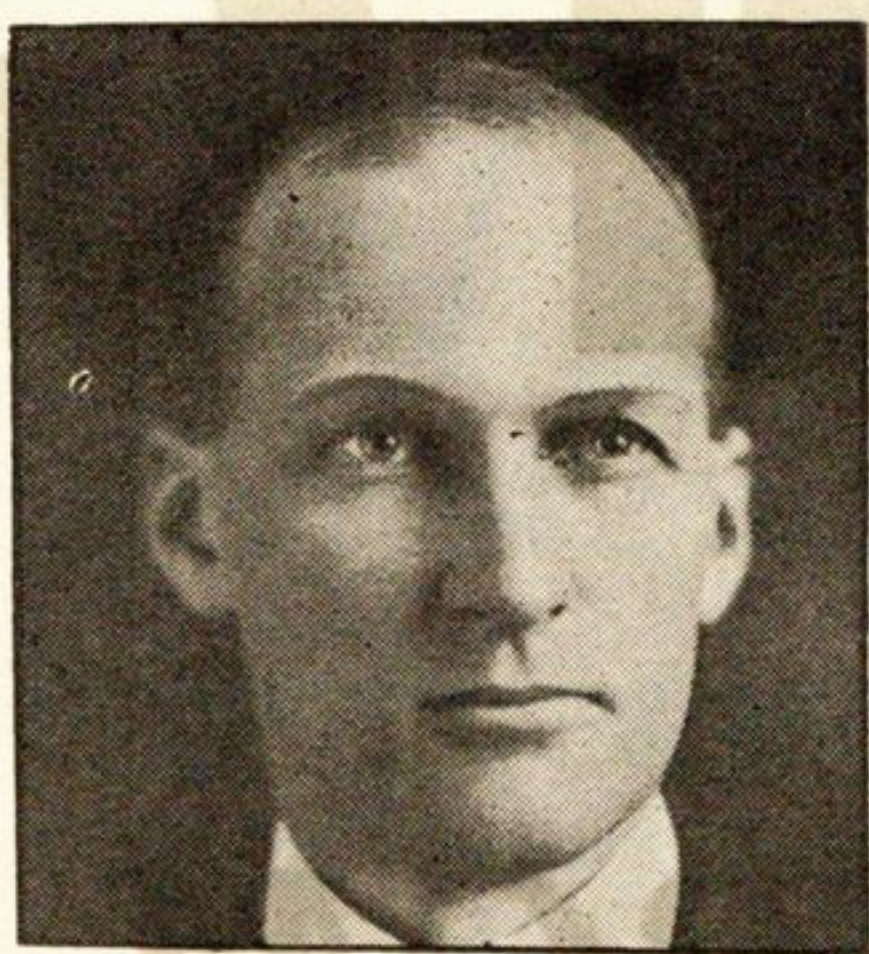

Every year at this season, we are assigned to the pleasant task of noting the fact that A. C. Wolff has again assumed the responsibility of marshaling the "forces" in the mammoth street procession that wends its dignified way through all the villages of the township on New Trier Day morning.

"Al" has some real helpers on his committee this year in Earl Weinstock, J. M. Canico and Wm. T. Wensted.

It's a big job, this marshaling business, Mr. Wolff will agree, but one needn't worry about his not tackling it just the same. He likes work, because labor "comes easy" to a person engaged continuously in the "parlous" task of installing furnaces and attaching tinware to house gables.

Incidentally—or shall we say co-incidentally—Mr. Wolff does considerable marshaling the year 'round. He's the marshal of the Wilmette Volunteer Fire department.

Count Him In!

William T. Wersted

William T. Wersted, Winnetka's best known automobile dealer, is helping out nobly in the New Trier Day planning. He attacks the problems attendant upon the township holiday in a methodical manner, the result of many years' experience in preparing community recreation events.

Mr. Wersted is a member of the Parade committee and is giving valuable service to the business before the General committee.
