Address THE TRIBUNE,
 STOUFFVILLE, ONT.

In another column will be found a letter from our esteemed correspondent, citizen, anent the paragraph in our last issue referring to Dr. Wad-el-Ward's lectures. We cheerfully give it room. It will be seen that we do not state that the Dr. is not a Jew, or even that it is our opinion that he is not. We say there are some who doubt it. The rest of the paragraph deals with some points that he took up in which we do not agree with him. We have no desire to quarrel with any one or look on the matter with sectarian bias, and the Dr. has no reason to complain as we advertised his lectures in our paper entirely free of charge and expected to be greatly entertained by them.

Now is the time while the evenings are long, that young people, and old people too, for that matter, should be doing a great deal of reading. We have an excellent library in Stouffville and we suppose a considerable number of our citizens take advantage of it, but still we are safe in saying that the number is very small in comparison to the number of those who read very little outside of the newspapers. A taste for reading is a thing that can be cultivated, and we think it is the duty of parents and teachers and in fact all who are interested in the youth of our land to see that every facility is accorded to the boys and girls to develop in them a taste for literature. While we frequently meet with boys in their teens who are thoroughly posted as to the latest movements in base-ball, boat-racing and other sporting matters, the boy who is able to tell where the idea of Grip was taken from is more of a rara avis, and it questioned on the subject would probably wonder who in the Dickens you were talking about, while Charles Reed, George Elliot and Scott are names not a particle more familiar. In order to excite a little interest, if possible, we will give five questions this week for which we will receive answers for two weeks, from any of our readers under twenty years of age. We will publish the names of the first three from whom we receive correct answers, with their answers as well. Each one must procure the information for himself, and must be able to state that he has read the book. Question: 1.—What is the name of the story from which Bengough got the idea of "Grip"? 2.—Who wrote it? 3.—Who is the principal character in the story? 4.—What was "Grip"? 5.—To what events in history does the story refer?

EXPENSIVE TROUSERS.

"Them French words mixes me all up," said a disgusted farmer, who was reading a seed catalogue, and found their familiar names offset by their Latin equivalents. His complaint was a sensible one, though he had the advantage of perceiving that the foreign words did not belong to his own language. Mike, an irrepressible boots at a Dublin hotel, announced to a guest recently returned from a trip: "We've had a mighty big wedding in the house, sor."
 "Indeed!"
 "It was so, indeed, sor, and a pretty expensive one, too. Wery, sor. The trousers cost $20,000."
 "The trousers, Mike? What kind of trousers would cost that?"
 "That's what troubles me, sor," replied Mike. "I'd never have thought it, if I hadn't read it with my own eyes in the paper."
 "Are you sure it wasn't trosses?"
 "Faith, then," said Mike, scratching his head, "whatever it was, sor, it was trousers, or something very like it."
 Youth's Companion

THE WORLD OVER.

Two hundred unfortunates of the city of Toronto were provided with a free breakfast on Sunday morning last in Richmond Hall. No money or lodging tickets are given and the partakers are not allowed to pocket any of the stuff.

Survivors are at work on the new electric railway to connect the town of Oshawa with the harbor. Citizens of that town are jubilant over the prospect for increased business facilities.

Refrain of a guest at a Markham Hotel:—
 "The butterfly has wings of gold,
 The June-bug, wings of flame;
 The bed-bug has no wings at all,
 But he gets there just the same."

A cable message from Rome states that no appointment has been made for Archbishopric, of Toronto, nor is likely to be made soon.

The daughter of a wealthy New York stock broker recently eloped to Montreal with her father's coachman.

OBSERVATIONS.

A great mistake you did not elect Observer.

The defeated candidate has One More River to cross.

Are you sure there was no bribery in connection with those 186 votes? Why so much talk about all the willow baby cradles?

The resolutions made at the School Board to re-consider the applications of teachers meant the decapitation of a municipal candidate.

The question is not who was, but who was not invited to the wedding the other day.

The Town Parliament will be unusually attractive the coming season. The Honorable member for Leanev Town is about to open and close each session with an appropriate song, of which copies may be had free on market days. Of course the Hon. member for Flint will pronounce the Benediction as usual.

The question is often asked who is "Observer?" Well, to set the matter at rest, he will tell you. He is a man, a nice man, a good looking man, a gentlemanly man, tall and straight with a slight crook, small but suitable for a No. 11 boot; can look two men in the face at once, understandings good, a hand honest, with just proportions, a head with small brain but large in comprehension. Eye not very green yet observing, taste exquisite, in personal appearance not a dude, in physique not a pugilist; in fact he is a manly man—no animal that you would shoot, but a man you will learn to love and respect, for the kindly things he will say of you, if your daily walk and conversation is such as he can commend.

Say! Did you see our Thomas last Saturday? He could hardly talk. A naughty bee stung him on the tongue—that naughty bee.

That beautiful glossy sheen, so much admired in hair can be secured by the use of Ayer's Hair Vigor. There is nothing better than this preparation for strengthening the scalp and keeping it free from dandruff and itching eruptions.

It is Absurd

For people to expect a cure for Indigestion, unless they refrain from eating what is unwholesome, but if anything will sharpen the appetite and give tone to the digestive organs, it is Ayer's Sarsaparilla. Thousands all over the land testify to the merits of this medicine.

Mrs. Sarah Burroughs, of 218 Eighth street, South Boston, writes: "My husband has taken Ayer's Sarsaparilla, for Dyspepsia and torpid liver, and has been greatly benefited."

A Confirmed Dyspeptic.

C. Canterbury, of 141 Franklin st., Boston, Mass., writes, that, suffering for years from Indigestion, he was at last induced to try Ayer's Sarsaparilla and, by its use, was entirely cured.

Mrs. Joseph Aubin, of High street, Holyoke, Mass., suffered for over a year from Dyspepsia, so that she could not eat substantial food, became very weak, and was unable to care for her family. Neither the medicines prescribed by physicians, nor any of the remedies advertised for the cure of Dyspepsia, helped her, until she commenced the use of Ayer's Sarsaparilla. "Three bottles of this medicine," she writes, "cured me."
