The frequent recurrence of railway accidents in which the horrors of fire are added to the destruction of property and life should teach the railway companies that it would be to their own interest to abolish the deadly stove that is to be found in every car, and substitute some method of heating from the engine. In this age of inventions some cheap and effective system could surely be devised and if the railway companies do not take the matter up, they should be compelled by law to render travel as safe as possible.

We learn with pleasure that Sir Ed. Sullivan, recommends the marriage of the eldest son of the Prince of Wales to some American lady and we take this opportunity of assuring Sir Ed. that he may depend on the hearty support of the TRIBUNE in the matter. We foresee grave difficulties, however, that are sure to arise in making a selection and to expedite the business we respectfully beg to submit the name of Miss Murphy, daughter of Senator Mike Murphy of New York State (that is if there is a Miss Murphy) as a candidate for the position of future Queen of England.

One more name is added, by the death of Willie Miller to the list of victims of the railway track, and the wonder to us is that more are not killed or maimed at those open crossings. At a railway crossing such as we have here there should be gates with some one stationed to see that pedestrians as well as conveyances are not allowed to cross when trains are about to pass. We will venture to say that such a crossing as we have here could not be found in the whole of Great Britain, and we see no reason why, in a village like Stouffville, that has such a dangerous crossing, there should be no precautions whatever taken to prevent such occurrences as the one which took place on Tuesday.

This World, in its anxiety to take a slap at Hon. Mr. Mowat, sees a chance to vent its spite in giving the circumstances of the insult recently offered to Mr. Mowat by the New York State Legislators. After giving a number of extracts from American exchanges, which severely censure Mr. Murphy, the World remarks, "In return for these prompt rebukes of Colonel Mike's rudeness it would be but fair to inform the able editors of the Republic that Hon. Oliver Mowat, who sits for the North Riding of Oxford in the House of Assembly of the Province of Ontario, is the Attorney General and Premier of that Province." Incidentally also it might be mentioned that Mr. Mowat controls a powerful political machine known as the Boards of License Commissioners—a fact which had it been known to Colonel Mike would have brought the distinguished Senator to his knees in the dust at the feet of our Christian Statesman.

Mrs. Harry Pearson, Pawtrey, writes: For about three months I was troubled with fainting spells and dizziness, which was growing worse and would attack me three or four times a day. At last my husband purchased a bottle of Northrop & Lyman's Vegetable Discovery, from which I derived considerable benefit. I then procured another, and before it was used my affliction was completely gone, and I have not had an attack of it since."

THE THIRD PARTY.

As will be seen from our local columns, those who were present at the meeting of the G. T. S. on Tuesday evening last had an opportunity to listen to an exponent of the new party as he dealt at some length upon the merits of the infant party whose platform promises such good for our country. If one can judge from the length of time devoted to each plank, Prohibition and Anti Jesuitism, are the principal ones, and undoubtedly recent events have justified an outcry against the growing influence of the Jesuits in the body politic. We have no desire to join in the race and creed warfare, but no one with his eyes open can deny that the time has come when every right-thinking citizen should raise his voice and cast his vote for the complete separation of church and state.

It is fatally easy for a body of men acting under the impulse of a strong excitement and disgusted with a long course of misgovernment, to lay down a platform embracing a number of reforms almost Utopian in their nature, and endeavor to unite under one banner all those who are dissatisfied deserters from present parties, but it has been proved again and again that even such a combination should succeed in obtaining members and strength enough to place them in charge of the nation's affairs, it would not take long for them to yield to party exigencies, forget the planks that floated them into office, and become a prey to place and pap seekers among their friends and be as extravagant and corrupt as the rest.

On one subject of the greatest importance it is to be regretted that the new party is silent. It will be seen that an examination of their platform fails to reveal their attitude on matters of trade and commerce. Whether they would favor Canada's treaty making power, unrestricted reciprocity, Imp. Fed., Annexation, Independence, or whether they would cling to the N. P., is not yet revealed, but it is certain that in the prohibition of the liquor traffic and race privileges is not all that is needed to relieve the burdens of this sorely tried land.

While there are many things in their platform that are admirable and call for our hearty support, we are not sure that we shall cast in our lot with the new party just yet.

TRAINING HEIFERS.

The term "breaking" as applied to the domestic animals has an unpleasant signification. It indicates bad management forcibly remembered. A calf or a colt should be trained from its birth, and it should be gradually led in the way it should go—the word "educated" has precisely this meaning—by a constant progressive course of kind and considerate treatment. A heifer calf should be weaned at its birth. It is natural instinctive proclivities are to be repressed and obligated, this is the time to begin, before the germs of these have had opportunity to grow into a habit. Hence a calf should not be permitted to suck the dam and should be taught to drink from a pail. Have a leather collar strong enough to hold it, with a ring sewn in it, and a rope with a snap hook attached to it with in a pen. Then it should be handled (brushed is better) quite frequently, until it is used to it and makes no resistance but rather likes it. As it grows older, its udder and teats should be rubbed and pulled as if in milking. This not only makes it docile, but it helps the development of the udder and increases its future capacity. A heifer may be brought to milk this way before it has had a calf, and instances of this lactical precocity are not infrequent in dairies where calves are permitted to suck each other, although this is a great mistake and is provocative of vicious habits, such as self-sucking and sucking other cows. When the heifer has a calf it is already trained, and breaking, with the discipline of a club, a boot, or a milking stool, will not be required.—American Agriculturist for May.

The interest in the Crossley & Canfield revival services in the Methodist church increases. Already about 70 have decided on leading a changed life. The Sabbath sermons were the most impressive of the series. At Tuesday evening's song sermon Gospel songs were sung by Mr. D. Stouffer, of Stouffville, and Mr. Canfield, in unison. The singing of these noble performers was simply grand and impressive, inspiring the large audience, who by announcement, had gathered to hear them. Song service again on Thursday evening. Very successful revival meetings are being carried on in Markham Methodist Church, by the Pastor, Rev. Mr. Hill. Journal.

SPECIAL ANNOUNCEMENT.

We have made arrangements with Dr. B. J. Kendall Co., publishers of "A Treatise on the Horse and his Diseases" which will enable all our subscribers to obtain a copy of that valuable work free by sending their address (enclosing a two-cent stamp for mailing same) to Dr. B. J. Kendall Co., Enosburgh Falls, Vt. This book is now recognized as standard authority upon all diseases of the horse, as its phenomenal sale attests, over four million copies having been sold in the past ten years, a sale never before reached by any publication in the same period of time. We feel confident that our patrons will appreciate the work, and be glad to avail themselves of this opportunity of obtaining a valuable book.

It is necessary that you mention this paper in sending for the "Treatise." This offer will remain open for only a short time. 61 66.

Godey's Lady's Book for May, the favorite fashion magazine, has reached us. This number is full of choice illustrations of fashions and work, while the literary matter is more than up to the standard of any fashion journal. It is the pet of the ladies, who, when they first see it, become so fascinated that never again can they do without it.

Godey's Lady's Book, Philadelphia, Pa.

Mrs. Celeste Coon, Syracuse, N. Y., writes: "For years I could not eat many kinds of food without producing a burning, excruciating pain in my stomach. I took Parmentier's Pills according to directions under the head of 'Dyspepsia or Indigestion.' One box entirely cured me. I can now eat anything I choose, without distressing me in the least." These Pills do not cause pain or griping, and should be used when a cathartic is required.

It is Absurd

For people to expect a cure for Indigestion, unless they refrain from eating what is unwholesome, but if anything will sharpen the appetite and give tone to the digestive organs, it is Ayer's Sarsaparilla. It is sold all over the land, and testifies to the merits of this medicine.

Mrs. Sarah Burroughs, of 248 Eighth Street, South Boston, writes: "My husband has taken Ayer's Sarsaparilla for Dyspepsia and torpid liver, and has been greatly benefited."

A Confirmed Dyspeptic.

C. Canterbury, of 141 Franklin St., Boston, Mass., writes, that, suffering for years from indigestion, he was at last induced to try Ayer's Sarsaparilla, and by its use, was entirely cured.

Mrs. Joseph Aubin, of High Street, Holyoke, Mass., suffered for over a year from Dyspepsia, so that she could not eat substantial food, became very weak, and was unable to care for her family. Neither the medicines prescribed by physicians, nor any of the remedies advertised for the cure of Dyspepsia, helped her, until she commenced the use of Ayer's Sarsaparilla. "Three bottles of this medicine," she writes, "cured me."
