

THE TRIBUNE,

STOUFFVILLE, JUNE 23, 1889.

THE POLITICAL OUTLOOK.

Reform and Conservative conventions for the selection of candidates for the coming elections, local and federal, are of every day occurrence and there is no doubt that the approaching fight will be the hottest in the history of Confederation. The selections of candidates goes bravely on and in spite of all that has been said against French aggression and race privileges each party endeavors to call off attention from itself, by howling in its loudest tones for vengeance on the other. Thus Mowat is accused of being ruled from the Palace, and Sir John of pandering to Quebec sentiment; Ross permits French schools, and Bowell didn't succeed, or even try, to have the Estates Bill disallowed, and so the newspaper warfare rages with many a bloodless, but very muddy, victory claimed and disputed by the adherents of the rival clans.

Although the immediate effect of these wordy battles may not be of any advantage to the country, it cannot fail to produce a feeling of disgust in the minds of those not wholly devoted to the party and the result cannot fail to be a loosening of party trammels and the gradual demolition of "machine politics."

Government by party may be an evil necessity, but a few rude shakings as the system has received in this country cannot but produce a decided change for the better. If "this Canada of ours" is ever to take her proper rank among the nations of the world, we must have a little more regard for the general welfare and less for the maintenance of itself in office, on the part of the Government.

CAMPING OUT.

As the rain is apparently over and the signs indicate that we may have some decent weather this summer, people's minds revert to past pleasures, and the renewal of these pleasant outings suggests itself as a pleasant relief from every day drudgery and business cares. There is no lack of suitable points, at which all the conditions necessary to a successful camp may be secured and Jackson's Point seems to be the prime favorite in this locality, on account no doubt of its easy access and its inherent good qualities.

The prime requisite of course, is a lake of some proportions in which the fishermen with "troll" or "rod and line" may exercise his muscle and patience in order to supply the camp with fresh fish. A sandy beach and a good bathing place are of no less importance, and a grass covered shore with cool shady trees close at hand add to the pleasure and wholesomeness of the locality. Given these topographical conditions and good weather, all that is necessary for a good time is a carefully selected party and a good tent. Of course if it is a family affair the trouble of selection done away with and all you have to do is to lock the front door on the inside and the back door on the outside, hide the key under the woodpile, ask a neighbor to feed the chickens, and away. But if it be a party of young men the trouble of selection must be taken. By all means take an even number and let them be men of similar tastes and no shirks but all willing to take a share of the work.

It is difficult to generalize a camping outfit, so that we will defer details till some future issue when particulars of an expedition may be looked for.

A summer morning could not be more pleasantly spent than in reading the July number of "Peterson." No lady can have this magazine for a year without finding it indispensable in regard to the making of bonnets, dresses and every other sort of garment in the newest style and most economical manner. The household department is as perfect in its way, and in "Things Worth Knowing," there is each month an article on home management, nursing or some other subject interesting to housekeepers and mothers. The literary contents are made up of choice novelettes, stories and poems by popular authors, and the steel engraving and wood illustrations are always admirable. Terms: Two Dollars a year, or One Dollar for six months. Send for a sample copy. Address: PETERSON'S MAGAZINE, 306 Chestnut St., Philadelphia.

SPECIAL ANNOUNCEMENT.

We have made arrangements with Dr. B. J. Kendall Co., publishers of "A Treatise on the Horse and his Diseases," which will enable all our subscribers to obtain a copy of that valuable work free by sending their address (enclosing a two-cent stamp for mailing same) to Dr. B. J. Kendall Co., Enosburgh Falls, Vt. This book is now recognized as standard authority upon all diseases of the horse, as its phenomenal sale attests, over four million copies having been sold in the past ten years, a sale never before reached by any publication in the same period of time. We feel confident that our patrons will appreciate the work, and be glad to avail themselves of this opportunity of obtaining a valuable book.

It is necessary that you mention this paper in sending for the "Treatise." This offer will remain open for only a short time. 70-71

ROUND ABOUT US.

NOTES GOT BY HOOK OR BY CROOK WITH SCISSORS OR PEN IN HAND.

Hallelujah wedding in the S. A. Barracks at Uxbridge next Monday.

A batteau with six passengers went over the falls on the St. Maurice at Three Rivers on Saturday last.

An interesting fight is imminent between the city of Toronto and the C. P. R. for possession of the Esplanade which the latter wishes to expropriate.

Rev. P. Addison, of Uxbridge, was presented with a gold watch by the Methodist congregation. Rev. E. Roberts has been appointed to that charge.

"Billy" Stubbs, of Cardwell, who ran against Mr. White the party nominee in Cardwell was bounced from the Conservative association at its last meeting.

"Mollie Matches" the noted crook, who was recently arrested for picking a lady's pocket in Toronto, but discharged for lack of evidence, is now "in the soup" being sent down to the Ohio state prison for four years on a charge of burglary.

Burke, the suspect, who has been arrested at Winnipeg, and held for extradition, charged with complicity in the Cronin murder, has been identified by a messenger from Chicago, who picked out his man from a crowd of toughs collected for the occasion.

Rev. R. T. Burns, Deputy Post Master at Kingston was arrested on Monday, charged with having embezzled funds from the money order department. It is understood that Mr. Burns has confessed to appropriating about $3000. Mr. Burns has been sentenced to two years in the Provincial Penitentiary.

Last week a concerted plot on the part of the 400 convicts confined at the Kingston Penitentiary, to tie the jailers batter down the doors and escape, was discovered by the authorities, and prevented. The prisoners were surprised to see a squad of soldiers in the yard one morning and quietly dispersed. The building is to be remodelled and the old and young convicts separated.

At a meeting of the City Council on Monday last it was decided to submit the question to the freeholders whether a commission should be appointed to superintend the erection of the Court House. The aldermen are loathe to let this chance of handling a large sum of public money out of their own hands.

Ottawa has a sensation in the marriage of a daughter of Mr. Justice Taschereau and niece of Cardinal Taschereau, to Frank Beard, a young man in the employ of the Canada Atlantic Railway. The young lady is a Roman Catholic while her husband is a Protestant. The ceremony was performed by Rev. Owen Jones, a Protestant Clergyman, but the parties were afterwards re-married by Rev. Father Fillatre.

A trolling hook, to which was attached about 40 feet of line, was found this week stuck in a log in the lake. We heard a story the same day about two nimrods losing a hook and forty feet of line to a forty pound fish. We have tried to dove tail the two circumstances, but they won't fit. The hook is all right, the forty feet of line is correct, but there has been some "ly" in somewhere, which we will hunt up during the week. Standard.

At the civil assizes in Toronto on Friday last the perjury case of Clark vs. Stevenson was tried. The plaintiff, Richard Clark, is a laboring man residing near Goodwood, and the defendant a farmer's wife living in Scott. The plaintiff brought action to recover $1,000 damages on the ground that on Nov. 10th last the defendant laid an information against him charging him with having perjured himself. The defence was that the plaintiff had on a certain occasion been arrested for perjury, but the defendant had taken no part in the cause of the arrest. The trial resulted in a verdict for Clark of $225. Taylor & McCullough for plaintiff, McGillivray for defendant.

When the Vital Current is vitiated from any cause, scorbatic blemishes in the shape of pimples, sores and blotches soon begin to disfigure the skin. In such a case the most effective purifier is Northrop & Lyman's Vegetable Discovery and Dyspeptic Cure, which expels impurities from the blood as well as regulates digestion, the bowels, liver and kidneys. For Female Complaints it has no equal.

To Save Life

Frequently requires prompt action. An hour's delay waiting for the doctor may be attended with serious consequences, especially in cases of Croup, Pneumonia, and other throat and lung troubles. Hence, no family should be without a bottle of Ayer's Cherry Pectoral, which has proved itself, in thousands of cases, the best Emergency Medicine ever discovered. It gives prompt relief and prepares the way for a thorough cure, which is certain to be effected by its continued use.

S. H. Latimer, M. D., Mt. Vernon, Ga., says: "I have found Ayer's Cherry Pectoral a perfect cure for Croup in all cases. I have known the worst cases relieved in a very short time by its use; and I advise all families to use it in sudden emergencies, for coughs, croup, &c."

A. J. Eidson, M. D., Middletown, Tenn., says: "I have used Ayer's Cherry Pectoral with the best effect in my practice. This wonderful preparation once saved my life. I had a constant cough, night sweats, was greatly reduced in flesh, and given up by my physician. One bottle and a half of the Pectoral cured me."

"I cannot say enough in praise of Ayer's Cherry Pectoral," writes E. Bragdon, of Palestine, Texas, "believing as I do that, but for its use, I should long since have died."

Ayer's Cherry Pectoral,

PREPARED BY

Dr. J. C. Ayer & Co., Lowell, Mass. Sold by all Druggists. Price $1; six bottles, $5.

The following clipping from the Keewatin "Hustler" shows that the editor is making great strides in western journalism. He is speaking of the desertion of his friends by a local cotem, and thus touchingly and familiarly remarks: "The Ontario Government we know, and the News man we know but this member of ours must be built of queer timber if he fails to resent the insults flung boldly in his face by the would-be champion of the people's rights. We are no apologist for Comtee, but for pure undiluted ingratitude the editor of the News is fitted for the same category as his lamented friend Judas Iscariot."

As an Emergency Medicine, for sudden colic, Ayer's Cherry Pectoral takes the lead of all remedies, a dose or two generally sufficing to stop ordinary coughs and ease the worst. For the cure of throat and lung disorders, this preparation is unequalled.

The pretty Exmoor ponies, sleek, docile and intelligent, form the subject of a spirited engraving in the American Agriculturist for July. The breeding of children's ponies—so great has become the demand for them—could no doubt be carried on more extensively than it is and with profit. The prime points for a child's pony are that it should be pretty to look at, kind of temper and an easy traveller. Spirit and fleetness come afterwards. The Shetland and the Exmoor ponies are the gentlest and prettiest, and they are as knowing and intelligent as full-grown horses. The different kinds of ponies bred and sold especially for children's use are described in the interesting article that accompanies the engraving.

The midsummer's number of Godey's Lady's Book has been received. Notwithstanding the temperature it is more than equal to its general excellence. The opening illustration, "Go Up," will carry many a fond mother and child back to when life was full of sunshine. The colored and black fashions and work pages are all full of novelties. The architectural design for an Episcopal church is very quaint and attractive. "A Notion of Nancy's," an illustrated story by Max Van der Wede, is replete with interest. "Two Summer Days" by Olivia Lovell Wilson, is a very clever sketch, with an excellent moral. "Music Hath Charms" is an amusing chapter. The two serials, "A Woman's Way" by Elsie Snow, and "A Model American Girl," by David Lowry, increase in interest. "The Beautiful Home Club," by Emma J. Gray, is a new department upon home decoration, which will, without doubt, as they are to be continued, prove a great source of interest to the readers of the MAGAZINE. The other departments are bright and interesting, as usual. Published at Philadelphia, Pa.

Canker in the mouth can be cured only by expelling the poisonous humor from the system. To do this effectually requires the persistent use of Ayer's Sarsaparilla, together with a good, generous diet. One dollar a bottle. Six bottles for $5. Begin at once.

Bickle's Anti-Consumptive Syrup stands at the head of the list for all diseases of the throat and lungs. It acts like in breaking up a cold. A cough is soon subdued, tightness of the chest is relieved, even the worst case of consumption is relieved, while in recent cases it may be said never to fail. It is a medicine prepared from the active principles or virtues of several medicinal herbs, and can be depended upon for all pulmonary complaints.
