LOCAL ITEMS.

OYSTERS.—Ho!—Oysters fresh and fat now on hand at Hamilton.

A FALL.—While coming to the Stouffville Fair, Mrs. Ludwig Fockler had the misfortune to slip on the wet sidewalk, and is now suffering from a severe injury to the wrist.

MONEY TO LOAN at 5 1/2 per cent. No commission. Fred W. Hill, Barrister, Stouffville.

LOST.—On Main St., Stouffville, on Thursday evening of last week, a crowbar with the initials I.K.L. on it. The finder will please leave it at this office or with the owner, Mr. I. K. Lehman, of Ringwood.

FARM FOR SALE.—100 acres, Tp. Whitchurch, within 3 miles of Stouffville. First-class property at a bargain, apply to U. C. HAMILTON, Miller & Co's Bank.

Yes! D. Stouffer & Co. are very sorry indeed, that we had such a wet, muddy, disagreeable day for our Fair, but then they console themselves with the fact that they sold a great many Rubbers of which they have a splendid stock at very low prices.

BAD FALL.—On Thursday, of last week, Blake, the six-year-old son of Mr. John Sanders, fell from a horse-chestnut tree in which he had climbed, and broke his collar-bone and received other injuries to his shoulder. Being young, the doctors expect to have him sound as ever in a few weeks.

BASE BALL.—An interesting game of base ball was played in the driving park, on Saturday afternoon last between the west end and the village boys. The score stood 10 to 12 in favor of the west end boys, in the end of the 6th innings, and three of the west end boys had to leave. In the 6th inning, four runs were tallied down for the village boys. Arthur Sanders did very good work in the box for the West End and Will McCarty for the villagers.

FARMERS' CLUB.—The regular meeting of the Stouffville Farmers' Club will be held on Friday evening, Oct. 11th, when the subject "Is the cultivation of Small Fruits profitable," will be discussed. Mr. R. J. Daley will also address the meeting on the advantages of establishing a Fruit Canning Factory in Stouffville. Farmers and fruit growers are especially invited to attend and take part in the discussion.

CONCERT.—The baseball Concert in Daley's Hall on Tuesday evening was a complete success although the darkness and rain kept away numbers who would have otherwise been present and enjoyed themselves. Of course Mr. Ramsay's singing was the feature of the evening, and it is needless to say that everyone was delighted with his impersonations. His "Goose" and "Frenchy" were especially good. He recited "The old Maid" as an encore and "Death Doomed" by special request, the latter being of a tragic nature would be considered out of the line of a comic singer but Ramsay did it well and the audience preserved a death-like stillness. Miss Pearce's recitations were very cleverly done and this gifted lady is always sure of a warm reception by a Stouffville audience. Mrs. A. Fleury sang twice and was recalled each time. Although suffering from a cold her singing was very pleasing and evidently appreciated. Mr. McCarty sang to fill up a gap in the programme and covered himself with glory. A Cornet Solo by Mr. Noah Stouffer was executed with his usual skill and spirit, and three selections by the Orchestra added much to the enjoyment. Miss Josie McCarty for the others, performed the duties of accompanist. By the kindness of Mr. Yake, the Karm organ was used. The concert was a success and Ramsay is sure of a bumper house the next time he visits us.

PERSONALS.

Mr. Jos. Galloway, of West Toronto Junction, was in town on Tuesday.

Miss Mary Hopkins, of Toronto, is the guest in town of the Misses Percy.

The Misses Hunter, of Uxbridge, were in town over Sunday, the guests of Mrs. J. Davis.

Mr. and Mrs. McHaffy, of Toronto, are the guests in town of their son-in-law Mr. Jas. Hand.

Mr. Geo. Wortington, of Newmarket, is in town assisting our popular photographer, Mr. W. J. Mertens, during fair-time.

Mrs. Duke Lloyd, and her daughter May, of Toronto, and Miss Robinson, of Lewiston, were the guests of Mr. High Johnson over the Fair.

Mrs. R. P. Coulson is at present visiting her mother, Mrs. Knill. Mrs. Coulson's many friends are greatly pleased to see her after her long absence.

Mr. Sam. Dougherty and wife, formerly of Stouffville, were hastily summoned from Detroit, to attend the bedside of their sick daughter, Mrs. Albert Barkey. Mr. Dougherty and Miss Edith Dougherty returned home last week, Mrs. Barkey having become convalescent. Sam is doing well in Detroit and consequently speaks well of the city of his adoption.

STOUFFVILLE FAIR.

WET WEATHER.

PARTIAL LIST OF PRIZE-WINNERS.

It rained on Fair Days. It nearly always does, but this year the weather was emphatically beastly. Nevertheless there was a splendid show of articles in all the classes, the total number of entries being over 1000, the largest ever known at Stouffville Fair. The exhibit in the "main building" was especially good where every available corner was occupied by some article of fancy work, fruit, butter, etc. It would be unwise to make any reference to particulars, as the list of prize winners below will probably give a correct idea of the best articles, and any man's attempt to describe the wonderful array of needle-work representing the labor of a good many hours, would be absurd. The fruit and grain samples were good and quite up to the average in quality and numbers. The large number of special prizes for Butter brought out an immense amount of that useful and necessary article which serves to lubricate the passage down mortal's throats of the "staff of life", over which exhibit smiled a large portrait of Ald. Sangster looking as if a piece of the aforesaid product of the bovine wouldn't "melt in his mouth". The honey exhibit was exceedingly good, being very tastefully arranged.

Other exhibits were Booker's Art Creamer which drew a good deal of attention, the New Raymond sewing machine, Dominion Organ and several makes of stoves. In the open was the usual display of implements shown by A. Fleury and Sons, H. L. Vanzant for A. Harris & Co., H. Oliver for Sylvester Bros., etc., etc. The number of horses, cattle, sheep, etc. exhibited was about the average, but was of course not so large as it would have been had the day been fine. The remainder of the prize-winners is unavoidably held over till next week.

The principal attraction on Monday was a football match in the afternoon between Green River and Gormley. The game was hotly contested throughout. Quite a breeze was blowing from the south, of which Green River had the benefit for the first half time, but failed to secure a goal. On changing goals, the Green River Boys braced up and played against the wind with considerable vim for some time, making several rushes on the goal, one shot which seemed sure being cleverly knocked over the tape by the goal-keeper. However, the Gormley boys played ball and scored two goals before time was called. The game was a very quiet and gentlemanly one, and the winners may feel proud of their victory. Mr. F. H. Sangster acted as referee with good judgment and considerable exertion to keep pace with the play up and down the field. The steady rain on Monday night and Tuesday rendered progress on the grounds very difficult, but a fairly good crowd was in attendance, and amused themselves in the usual way, according to their several tastes, the men standing in groups about the grounds examining the live-stock or listening to the glib talk of the implement agents as they pointed out the various good points and latest improvements in their machines. The ladies for the most part were confined to the building and the grand stand. The boys of course were everywhere, squandering their wealth on grapes, etc., experimenting with cigarettes and speculating as to who would prove to be the handsomest lady on the grounds (in the judges' opinion), for of course each boy had an opinion of his own. The only one thing needed in order to have made the fair a great success was good weather.
