WHERE DISEASE GERMS BREED.

No Need to Fear "Germs" if the Stomach be Healthy.

The ideal breeding place for disease germs is a weak stomach and digestive system. The food, instead of being assimilated, turns into a sour slurry, fermenting mass, causing gas, distress, flatulency, bloating, nausea and indigestion.

No ordinary food digestive can give relief. It is absolutely necessary, if one wishes to be well, to use Ali-Q, the only known remedy that soothes and heals the mucous membrane of the stomach and digestive tract, stimulates the solar plexus, and strengthens the nerves of the stomach.

This remarkable remedy purifies the whole digestive system, kills the unhealthy, clean water, a state of fermentation of the food cannot exist, any disease germs in the stomach will be destroyed, and all food will be so well assimilated that a rapid and healthy increase in weight will quickly result.

Ali-Q is a guaranteed cure for all diseases of the stomach, excepting cancer, a guarantee being given by Geo. Colburn with every package he sells, agreeing to refund the money should the remedy not give perfect satisfaction.

Deceased was the daughter of the late Wm. G. Smith, who was at one time a resident of Ringwood, and also lived in Stouffville and on the 7th line Markham. She was a niece of Mr. James Hamill, of Lincolnville. Her childhood days were spent in Stouffville and vicinity, and also the first few years of her married life, from 1872 to 1876, when her first husband, Dr. F. K. Armstrong, practised medicine in Stouffville, afterwards removing to Markham. Dr. Armstrong was a brother of Mr. N. J. Armstrong, of Toronto, formerly a resident of Stouffville for a number of years.

OBITUARY

Mr. and Mrs. John L. Swales mourn the loss of their infant son, Thomas Allen. The little lad had been ill for over a month with heart trouble and despite all that kind nursing and the best medical attention could do he gradually sank and that morning, June 6th, calmly passed away, at the home of M. Morrison, Portage la Prairie. The bereaved parents have the sympathy of the whole community in their sad loss.

Graphic—Pale, anæmic and in the clutches of smallpox, Harvey Jones, son of Mr. Jones, principal of the Markham Public School, a clerk in the Sovereign Bank, Toronto, was sent to the Swiss Cottage for treatment last week. Bank bills are not the safest things to handle, yet most people are perfectly willing to take the risk.

A sudden death occurred on Tuesday afternoon, May 30th when Mrs. Wm. Fulton passed away at her home at Portage la Prairie after a short attack of heart failure. She had been in good health recently and her sudden demise came as a terrible shock to her husband and relatives. The deceased was 39 years of age and her maiden name was Elizabeth Theresa Swales. Both parents are living and are well known residents of the township. Mr. and Mrs. Fulton were only married last November and after a short honeymoon tour to North Dakota returned and took up their residence in Portage la Prairie, where they have since resided. The circumstances surrounding her death are very sad and the bereaved relatives have the sincere sympathy of their many friends in their sad loss. The funeral service was held at her late late residence and she remains interred in the west end cemetery in that town.

After a brief illness, the death occurred at the Royal Jubilee Hospital on Saturday, April 22nd, of Mrs. Margaret Hamill Lehman, who was in her 60th year, leaves four children to mourn her loss, a daughter, Miss E. Irene, and a son, Mr. R. W. R. Armstrong, an employee of the Colonist Job department, residing in Victoria; the others are Mr. L. B. Armstrong, C. P. R. train dispatcher at Vancouver, and Mr. F. E. Armstrong, druggist at Kamloops. A brother, S. G. Smith, has resided in Victoria for the past twenty-eight years, and a sister and three brothers live in Winnipeg.

The late Mrs. Lehman was twice married, her first husband, father of the children mentioned, being F. R. Armstrong, M. D., who passed away at Markham in 1884. She was born at Toronto, and on the death of Dr. Armstrong, came to Victoria, in 1885. In 1886 she was married to Mr. S. W. Lehman, of Mt. Lehman, subsequently living in Alberta and Winnipeg. After the death of Mr. Lehman, about three and a half years ago, she came to Victoria.

CANADA AS IT IS.

John Foster Fraser Writes Book On Our Great Dominion.

"For some years," writes Mr. Fraser in his foreword, "I have made a careful study of Canada, its growth, its possibilities, and also its sentiments in regard to the parent country of Great Britain and its neighboring countries, the United States. On the top of that study I made an extensive trip through Canada, east and west, north and south, in the autumn of 1904. The result of his researches and observations is a traveler's book of the type invented by the late G. W. Stevens. Whatever may be said as to the style and method of composition of this kind of work it is at least good wholesome reading, and we hope that some journeymen, and we hope that "Canada As It Is" will be as popular as "The Real Siberia" and his other productions. At present the public knows nothing of the great Bridge of United British States which spans the North American continent and less than nothing of the men who have built it. Nobody can read this book without learning that Canada is something more than the overland route to the Orient and that the twofold Canadian nationality has a future that is greater than its past.

Mr. Fraser never journeyed far from the Rockies, and his word-pictures of the scenery from the Atlantic to the Pacific can be verified by any tourist who has time to visit the termini of northward and southward branch lines. He is at his best when crossing the other-world desolation of the Rockies, a spectacle which always brings to life the poet latent in every man. But he has not Mr. Klipping's gift of suggesting a picture by means of a single epithet (as when he writes of the "league-long streets of Winnipeg"), and his longer descriptions are too numerous to be effective.

As a tourist, and one who meets the people like the cinematograph of two or two ago. It is a pity that he had not time to visit the unsurveyed territories of the north (the white spaces on the map of the northwest, which are to belong to the new Provinces), were his life's work the same as it was a century ago, and one meets the people of the fur-trade, many of whom speak, who are not infected with the American vice of "hustling" and practice the ancient courtesies. No Canadian travel-book without some account of the hinterland of Quebec, Ontario, the Saskatchewan, and the lands above the Yukon, and the lands above the complete nowadays, when settlement is already trickling along their endless valleys towards the northern limit of wheat cultivation. Mr. Fraser often employs the device of translating his impressions on Canadian politics into the vernacular, or what he supposes to be such) of typical Canadian workers. Here in his typical Canadian endorsement of Mr. Chamberlain's fiscal policy:

"That Chamberlain of yours is a great man. Why don't you send him here and let him speak? We'd give him a million dollars to say what he would! That's a mighty fine scheme of his that England should give a preference to Canada. See what it would do for Canada—stimulate farming and give our manufacturers a chance.
